Chemist Tells Of Decade Of Spying

Recruited Harry Gold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thomas L. Black, Newark, N.J., chemist, testified Thursday he became a Soviet spy in the early 1930s because he wanted to go to Russia. He said he kept it up for nearly 10 years afterward because of fear that he would be killed if he didn't.

Black, who appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, identified himself as the man who recruited Harry Gold into a Russian atom spy ring in 1934.

Gold, a former Philadelphia chemist now serving a 30-year prison term on espionage charges, was one of the key figures in the atom spy case that led to the execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg several years ago.

Black testified he joined the Communist party in 1931 and two years later applied to the Russian Amtorg Trading Corp. for a job in the Soviet Union. At Amtorg, he said a man named Gaik Ovakimian told him he would have to "produce some evidence of usefulness" and asked him to get for Russia some technical data on U. S. manufacturing processes.

Black said he produced the required information, some of which "I carried in my head" from his work as a chemist in industrial plants, but was told the Soviets already had obtained the data from other sources.

Black said he was then placed under a Soviet agent known to him as Paul Peterson who trained him in espionage techniques. In 1937 or 1938, he said, he was assigned to take part in the assassination of Leon Trotsky in Mexico City, but begged off. Trotzky was slain Aug. 20, 1940.

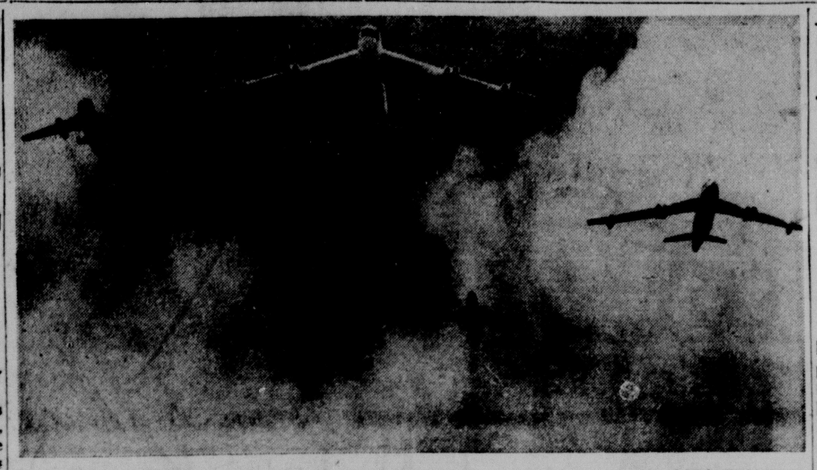

By this time Black said he had lost all sympathy for communism but feared to break off because of "implied threats" against his life if he did. He said he continued to obtain technical data for the Russians until "the early 1940s."

He was not questioned about his activities during World War II, but in 1945 or 1946 Black said he received a telephone call from his boss Soviet agent, Jack Katz, who "wanted to know if I would still cooperate with him."

Black said he gave a "noncommittal" answer to this, but "I told him I hadn't changed."

He said this was because he was afraid—"more so than ever"—because of such events as the Trotzky assassination and the slaying of Carlo Tresca, a radical he said was "executed" by Soviet agents in a New York office building in January 1943, after being "tried in Moscow."

Black said he finally broke with communism in 1950 and has been reporting to the FBI since. He was the only witness at Thursday's hearing of the subcommittee investigation into the nature and scope of Russian activities in this country.

Florida Prisoners Riot, One Shot To Death, 11 Wounded

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—One convict was shot to death and 11 wounded Thursday in a short-lived mystery riot at state prison.

Warden Dewitt Sinclair said 225 of the 2,539 prisoners were the troublemakers but that they refused to say why.

He said several groups hadn't eaten some of their meals recently but "this wasn't a hunger strike. There were just 10 or 15 agitators."

There are 1,571 white prisoners in the prison. All the rioters were believed to be white.

The shooting came when a small group of prisoners armed with baseball bats tried to force their way through an open gate to get into the dining room.

A gun squad of a dozen guards warned them to stand back but Sinclair said "some of them just decided they could take the guns and started to bull their way through. So we had to fire."

Sinclair said one work squad Tuesday refused to eat the noon meal of beans, sidemeat and bread—"about all you can get at times out here in the country. They said they were tired of beans.

"Then Wednesday two other squads refused to eat but they ate supper and breakfast and nobody made any complaints."

Committee Rejects Ike's Long-Term Foreign Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee Thursday turned down President Eisenhower's request for long-term foreign aid authority and tied new restrictions into his $4,900,000,000, aid bill.

The committee cut its own swath across the administration proposals in a day-long closed session. Chairman Richards (D-SC) said the group voted, mostly by wide margins, to:

1. Reject Eisenhower's request for a billion dollars in long-term authority for overseas aid projects.

2. Substitute a "policy statement," proposed by Richards, that the United States will do what it can to continue foreign aid as long as there is a Communist menace.

3. Forbid U. S. aid to any country allowing export of strategic materials to the Communist bloc which the United States itself doesn't permit to be shipped to the Reds.

A number of countries, including Great Britain, have a more lenient policy toward trade with the Red bloc than does the United States.

Dispatches from London Thursday said Britain has decided to expand its sale to the Red Chinese of goods classed as strategic.

It was learned that Britain will invoke an escape clause of the Allied Control System and that, in fact, it already has done so in releasing a consignment of 60 tractors to Peiping recently. Further tractor sales are expected.

Rep. Edna F. Kelly (D-NY), sponsor of the new amendment, said it would tighten an existing legal prohibition of aid to such countries, which, as now written, allows the President to grant exceptions when he finds it in the national interest.

4. Cut in half the 200 million dollars Eisenhower sought for special economic assistance funds for the troubled Middle East and Asia.

5. Require that this economic assistance, plus 143 million dollars proposed for other parts of the world, be offered only in the form of loans or surplus U. S. farm goods. The administration wanted freedom to make either loans or outright money grants with these funds.

On the "plus" side, as far as the administration is concerned, the committee went along with Eisenhower's request to set up a special committee to restudy the whole foreign aid program.

Farm Bill Debate Starts In Senate

Ellender Hits Ike's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's proposal to give farmers 500 million dollars in advance soil bank payments this year was derided as "a political lollipop" in the Senate Thursday.

Beginning debate on a new farm bill, Sen. Ellender (D-La) attacked the President's plan as "sort of an agricultural will-o'-the-wisp."

The Senate Agriculture Committee added:

"I do not believe it either common sense or sound policy for Congress to offer our farmers a political lollipop this year at the cost of paying for that lollipop next year."

The new legislation, passed in slightly different form by the House, would replace a catch-all farm bill Eisenhower vetoed a month ago.

It doesn't provide for making 1956 soil bank payments to farmers who promise to withdraw cropland from cultivation and place it in the "bank" next year, but Republicans are expected to push hard for an advance payments amendment.

A shower of miscellaneous amendments developed shortly after the debate got under way.

In an effort to reach a final vote on the bill before the weekend, the Senate agreed to meet Friday, two hours ahead of the usual time, and to limit debate to an hour on each amendment. Three hours were allotted to discussion of the bill as a whole.

Eisenhower asked Congress for authority to advance farmers up to 50 per cent—or about 500 million dollars—of the benefits they would receive from a soil bank program next year.

The soil bank theory is to pay growers for cutting down on the production of crops already in surplus and devoting the withdrawn land to conservation purposes.

Without advance payments, the administration contends, few farmers could benefit from the soil bank this year because the growing season is so far advanced.

Among the new amendments were three by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) that would knock out the two-price rice plan now in the bill and special sections to limit import of long-staple cotton and to direct exports of surplus U.S. cotton at reduced prices.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) moved to strike out a section sponsored by Sen. Young (R-ND) that would prevent drops in the level of government price supports for wheat, corn and peanuts.

Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan) sought authority to sell up to 100 million bushels of government-held surplus wheat at livestock feed grain prices.

The Senate bill would establish a soil bank plan but with the idea of launching it in 1957 instead of this year.

It also would boost price support levels for feed grains—rye, oats, barley and grain sorghums—and all corn grown outside the designated commercial growing areas.

Oregon Primary Today Holds Double Attraction

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—National political attention switched to Oregon Thursday for a primary election Friday with a double attraction.

1. The first Far West test at the polls between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in their scramble for the Democratic presidential nomination.

2. A rousing battle between former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay and Phil Hitchcock, a Portland church leader, for the Republican nomination for the Senate. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) has only token opposition on his ticket.

A write-in vote will determine the preference of Oregon's Democrats for President. No names are on the Democratic presidential ballot, but the 16 delegates to the party's national nominating convention will be pledged to whomever tops the write-in.

The primary also will give Republicans a chance for an indirect vote of confidence for President Eisenhower. He is unopposed for 18 Republican delegates.

CARPENTERS UNION, FURNITURE WORKERS CONSIDER MERGER

CHICAGO (AP) — Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the AFL-CIO Carpenters Union, said Thursday it is negotiating a merger with the Furniture Workers Union.

The carpenters organization, affiliated with the AFL before the AFL-CIO merger, claims 835,000 members. The furniture workers group, reported to have about 45,000 members, was a CIO unit.

"This merger would eliminate a dual organization and rivalry between the two," Hutcheson said. He attended a Midwest meeting of his union, last of a series of regional conferences.

Soviet May Publish Thermonuclear Data

NEW YORK (AP) — There are interesting hints the Soviet government is about to lift more of the security veil from its scientific research on control of thermonuclear reactions.

If the Russians go through with this they will probably succeed in putting themselves in the position of a country which is revealing to the entire world knowledge and progress in this field and the United States in the position of a country which refuses to share its knowledge with others. In the United States at the present time research work on control of thermonuclear reastions is highly classified and cannot be published.

Thermonuclear reactions are those which give the H-bomb its tremendous explosive force. Establishment of control over them would open up an endless stores of energy for electric power.

Here are the facts:

1. Pravda announced on May 10 that details of Soviet experimental work in creation of controlled thermonuclear reactions would be published in Soviet scientific journals in the very near future.

2. On April 25 Soviet atomic physics chieftain Igor Kurchatov, who is in charge of Russian study of peaceful uses of atomic energy, gave a lecture at Harwell Laboratory in England to British scientists. In this talk he related that along one line of investigation Soviet scientists have been moving toward controlled thermonuclear reactions in experiments involving discharge of very heavy electric currents through tubes filled with deuterium (heavy hydrogen) and mixtures of deuterium and tritium (another form of heavy hydrogen) in gaseous form. Kurchatov revealed that in these experiments temperatures of up to a million degrees had been attained -- a temperature level not too far from one at which a thermonuclear reaction could be expected to take place.

3. After returning to the Soviet Union Kurchatov wrote an article for Pravda and gave an interview to Izvestia in which he gave further information on Soviet progress in the thermonuclear field.

Severity Of TB Is On Increase, Doctors Are Told

CHICAGO (AP) — A doctor told his colleagues Thursday there are indications that "the severity of tuberculosis is on the increase."

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, executive director of the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium, stated:

"There is every indication in local, state and national statistics that the severity of tuberculosis is on the increase as evidenced by the incidence of bone, kidney and tuberculosis meningitis in younger age groups."

Dr. Piszczek, in a speech at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Medical Society, said isolation is the best weapon although some new drugs have been introduced. He added:

"The belief that the new tuberculosis drugs will control spread of the disease to others while the infected person circulates in the community is creating a situation that is becoming more critical medically as the public loses its fear of the disease."

The society's House of Delegates approved a resolution urging establishment of a National Library of Medicine in Chicago.

Child, 1½, Dies After New Type Heart Operation

CLEVELAND (AP)—A baby whose blood circulation went the wrong way died Thursday a few hours after a delicate heart operation.

Surgeons worked in the chest of 18-month-old John S. Prince of Piqua, Ohio, for an hour and ahalf to reverse the heart vessels. About three hours after the operation, the child died.

"The heart evidently could not take the readjustment," a hospital spokesman said.

The spokesman added the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Prince, said that if they had to make the decision again on the operation, they would still give their consent because they knew he had no chance with what doctors call "transposition of the great vessels."

Doctors used a new machine which took over the function of pumping and purifying his blood while surgeons worked with the heart stilled. Previously the machine was used in 14 straight heart operations without a fatality.

Dr. Earle B. Kay, who developed a new technique for correcting the condition with Dr. Frederick Cross, headed the team of surgeons that operated on the Prince boy at St. Vincent Hospital.

West Protests Goose-Stepping Reds In Berlin

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Western Allies Thursday protested to the Russians against the goose-stepping "armed demonstrations" last May Day by the Communist East German people's army in Berlin.

It was the third such complaint by the West in just over a year.

The latest notes from the United States, Britain and France referred to the Red May 1 parade in East Berlin by about 5,000 members of the East German forces which marched with rifles and submachine guns and armored vehicles.

The Western Allies contend the Communist parades violate 1945 four-power regulations forbidding German military activity. They insist the city is still "occupied" by the four powers.

Britain To Sell Red China More Strategic Goods

LONDON (AP)—Britain has decided to expand its sale of goods classed as strategic to Communist China.

It was learned Thursday Britain will invoke an escape clause of the Allied Control System. It has in fact, already done so in releasing a consignment of 60 tractors to Peiping recently.

Further sales of tractors are expected. Communist China wants to buy thousands of them for its drive to boost agricultural output by collectivizing and mechanizing the farms.

Red China also may get from Britain automobiles, electrical equipment, a generating plant and such raw materials as rubber.

The escape clause permits any Western ally to send strategic goods to Red China as long as its partners are notified. Britain has used the clause sparingly in the past. It will now use the clause more extensively, according to a statement in Parliament this week.

Britain has been pressing Washington for a review and a relaxation of the controls on trade with Red China, imposed in the Korean War. The United States itself bars all trade with the Peiping regime.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd discussed the Chinese trade controls with Secretary of State Dulles in Paris recently.

Pittsburgh Girl Wins National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Melody Sachko, 13, of Pittsburgh, Pa., won the National spelling Bee Thursday by spelling down 62 other local hometown champions.

Miss Sachko, who finished sixth in the 1954 national event, won over runner up Sandra Owen, 13 of Justus, Ohio.

The new champion spelled correctly "afflatus" after Miss Owen missed on the word. Then Miss Sachko clinched the title by spelling correctly an additional word—"condominium."

It took 26 rounds of tongue-twisting difficult words to spell down the 62 other contestants and to determine the 29th spelling bee champion.

The winner will get first prize of $1,000 plus an additional $100 for a weekend trip to New York City. Miss Owen as runnerup receives $500 cash.

A cash prize of $250 goes to third place winner Ann Malone Warren of Monticello, Ga.

The girls in the national contest, although outnumbered 34-29 at the start of the spelling, outlasted the boys to win four top places.

Miss Warren, 13, of Monticello, Ga., missed her word on the 25th round.

She was asked to spell "cretinous," denoting mental defectiveness or a monstrosity. She flunked giving it as "cretenous."

The last of the boys to be spelled down was Mark Elson, 13, of Oak Ridge, Tenn. He missed out on "metonymy."

Seek Airman Who Took Girls From Estranged Wife

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) —Military and civil police Thursday hunted an airman and the two children he snatched from his estranged wife in a church.

The airman, assigned to Chanute Field at Rantoul, Ill., is William L. Melton, 26. With him are his two children, Nancy, 4, and Linda, 3.

Their mother, Margaret, 25, and the pastor of the church, the Rev. Delbert Herman, gave this account to police:

Melton, who has been separated from his wife since February, walked into the Full Gospel Community Chapel during a Wednesday evening prayer service.

He sat beside his wife and their two youngsters. An argument began, and the pastor invited the couple into an anteroom. The couple returned to their seats and near the end of the service Melton walked out with the children.

The pastor said Melton told his wife he would slit her throat if she prevented him from taking the children and told the clergyman "I'd get a bullet through my head" if he interfered.

Forecast $1.8 Billion Surplus In Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury revised its estimates upward Thursday and predicted the government will wind up the fiscal year June 30 with a surplus of $1,828,000,000.

There was no immediate indication, however, that this meant a 1956 tax reduction was anywhere nearer realization.

Last January President Eisenhower estimated the budget surplus at 230 million dollars.

The revised estimates were made public by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Percival Brundage.

They said the administration expects budget receipts will total $67,700,000,000 compared with an estimate of $64,500,000,000 in January.

Budget expenditures were estimated at $65,872,000,000 compared with a January forecast of $64,270,000,000.

The estimates were transmitted to chairmen of the Senate and House Appropriations and Finance committees.

Humphrey told them that the expected budget surplus "will make a most welcome reduction in our huge national debt."

Humphrey was not available for comment but from his past expressions an administrative budget surplus of less than two billion dollars apparently would rule out likelihood of administration support for an income tax cut this year.

Humphrey has said in the past that "a significant figure" for consideration of a tax cut would be 2½ to 3 billion dollars.

As for actually favoring a tax cut rather than just considering one, he has said he would take that stand only if the surplus at the end of the fiscal year ran as much as three or four billion dollars.

Tax legislation must originate in the House. Both Republicans and Democrats there have said they would regard a surplus of no more than two billion inadequate for any general reduction which would appreciable affect individual taxpayers. It would cost considerably more than this, for instance, to increase personal exemptions from

Convict Accused Woman Embezzler On Lying Charge

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Accused embezzler Minnie Mangum was convicted Thursday of a charge o lying to a banking regulatory agency and her punishment fixed at 10 years in prison.

The jury of six women and six men returned the verdict at 5:02 p.m. after deliberating for one hour and 42 minutes.

The 52-year-old defendant remained wooden-faced when the verdict was announced just as she had throughout the trial which began Wednesday morning.

Miss Mangum was found guilty specifically of giving the Virginia Corporation Commission false information in 1946 about the liabilities and assets of her employer, Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn.

The 190-pound defendant faces 15 more indictments, one of which charges she embezzled $2,884,000 from Commonwealth between 1933 and December, 1955.

State Prosecutor Linwood Tabb said the defendant would go on trial Monday on the 16th indictment which charges her with stealing $1,080,000 from Commonwealth. A second trial on charges of lying about Commonwealth's financial affairs to the Virginia Corporation Commission was postponed. It had been set for Friday.

Sightless Columnist Vows Crusade Against Racketeers

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor columnist Victor Riesel turned his bandaged, sightless eyes to a crowd of newsmen Thursday and vowed a lifelong crusade against mob rule and racketeering in labor unions.

"There has got to be a federal investigation of labor racketeering which infests unions," Riesel told a news conference in a hospital anteroom.

The writer was blinded when an unidentified thug threw sulphuric acid in his face as he was strolling near Broadway early April 5.

He contends—and law enforcement authorities seem to agree with him—that the attack was in retaliation for his exposures of corruption and crime in some labor unions.

Only an hour before the searing acid was thrown in his face Riesel had been conducting radio interviews with rebellious members of a Long Island operating engineers union that has a long record of extortion and dictatorial rule.

Riesel said he expected to be released from the hospital early next week.

"The day after I leave I will return to my office and my typewriter and will bang out my column as I always have," he told some 50 reporters.

"I will write my column as long as people will read it. The same underworld crowd that hit me will be the same underworld crowd I will continue to fight. They have not scared me. They blinded me but it will not keep me from writing the same type of column as before."

Riesel's eyes were shielded by surgical gauze pads. "Take a look at my face," he said. "It is perfect now, but it was not before." He praised the doctors that had fought to save his sight. Parts of Riesel's face at first had shown angry red markings from the effect of the acid.

The district attorney's office has questioned dozens of union leaders and others who were attacked in Riesel's columns, and have searched his writings for possible clues to the attack.

The column has been continued by his staff while Riesel was in the hospital.

Riesel was asked if he could name a "labor mob" that might have been responsible. "I could not put the finger on any one group at this time," he said.

At the end of the news conference Riesel walked back down the hospital corridor to his room, shuffling a little in the hesitant way of a man newly blind.

B25 Crashes, Three Killed, One Critically Hurt

DENVER (AP)—An Air Force B25 plane crashed in a wheat field shortly after taking off from Lowry Air Force Base Thursday, killing three crewmen and critically injurying a fourth.

Base officials identified the dead as Lt. Arthur N. Fink, 37, of San Pedro, Calif., pilot; Lt. Robert K. Jones, 28, of Auburntown, Tenn., co-pilot; and Lt. Murray E. Hird, 27, of Minneapolis, a navigator.

Another navigator, Lt. Jack S. Machin, 30, of Nashville, Ill., was critically injured and was taken to the hospital at Lowry AFB, a mile from the crash scene.

Fink was a gunnery instructor and the other three were students.

Clare Boothe Luce Not Seriously Ill, Doctor Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Clare Boothe Luce's doctor said Thursday her illness is not serious but that she'll be away from her post as U.S. ambassador to Italy for about two months.

Dr. Milton Rosenbluth said Mrs. Luce, 53, has a chronic intestinal inflammation and anemia. She is receiving blood transfusions but reportedly is up and around.

Mrs. Luce flew home May 11 admittedly feeling much below par and showing considerable weight loss. She entered Doctors Hospital Sunday for a checkup. Wednesday night she moved to her town house.

Big Rounds Coming Up

With the primaries of mid-May ripped off the calendar, the stage is virtually set for the decisive Democratic battles for the 1956 presidential nomination.

The critical ballot-box tests, of course, are those in Oregon, Florida and California between Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

As matters stand now, Stevenson must again be considered the frontrunner, while Kefauver is like a horse on the outside trying to come up.

Since his early defeats at Kefauver's hands, the former Illinois governor has done nothing startling at the polls. But neither has he been damaged afresh.

As he has survived successive weeks without new injury, his latent strength has come to the surface in some states which choose delegates in conventions or nonpresidential primaries. For instance, when Alabama elected 26 delegates it was reported 20 favored Stevenson.

Big state leaders like Gov. George Leader of Pennsylvania have taken heart, too, and are standing by the 1952 nominee.

Nevertheless, Stevenson is not so strong that he could not be fatally hurt by reverses in one or more of the three critical primaries, or even by fair-to-middling victories. Doubts still exist as to his vote-getting powers in 1956. Anything which feeds them heavily will almost certainly finish him.

Kefauver has not maintained the pace of his early triumphs. He slacked off in Illinois, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the minor battlegrounds of Alaska and the District of Columbia. The bandwagon psychology he early generated in many quarters has undoubtedly weakened.

Yet, he is putting up a stubborn fight, especially in Florida and 68-vote California. And he has picked off delegates from Maryland and Indiana in recent outings, though an uninstructed slate held him to 2 to 1 in Maryland and President Eisenhower's Indiana totals left the Tennessean well in arrears as a farm-state vote-getter.

Kefauver, far more than Stevenson, is in a make-or-break situation with respect to Oregon-Florida-California. Top Democrats never have viewed his candidacy with favor. Only the most sweeping victories would perhaps impress them.

No sure sign appears now that the senator has the stuff to produce such dramatic results. But he might be strong enough to prevent Stevenson from rolling up the margins he needs.

In that event, the chances are that both Stevenson and Kefauver would slide from major attention and the dark-horse scramble would be on.

LOAFER'S GLORY, N. C. (AP)—Watch your step, New York; Chicago, beware; look out, Los Angeles; America's most beautifully named community — Loafer's Glory, here in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains of western North Carolina — is on the march.

After 55 sleepy years, it is ready for growth. It invites fresh capital and new tired blood. Anyone who can tell a tall story well, who can yawn restfully in one of the loveliest settings in the Western Hemisphere, is welcome to become a pioneer in Loafer's Glory's cautiously slow climb to metropolitan stature as the modern Athens of those who put content above worry.

Before investing in Loafer's Glory's future a stranger might well want to know more about the town.

Well, it was founded — no one seems sure just when — early in the last century. Today it consists of a bend in the road, 30 acres and five families.

How did Loafer's Glory get its name?

Charles O. Burleson, 62, believes it came from his grandfather, Jonathan.

"There was a country store sat there by the bridge across Cane Creek," he recalled. "In the evenings the old fellows used to gather there to play checkers, pitch horseshoes, and spin yarns.

"Granddaddy passed by once and said: 'It's just a loafer's glory'. Somehow the name stuck. The old settlers liked the name. Most of them are gone now."

Tourists often zip through this valhalla of the carefree without even knowing it.

"Used to be a highway sign here saying 'Loafer's Glory,' explained Burleson, "but it rotted and fell down, and nobody thought to put it back up.

"I was born here in the same house my daddy was. He was 86 when he passed away in 1947, and the town lost its last good whittler. I don't whittle myself."

Loafer's Glory met its greatest disaster in the famous flood of May, 1901.

"It was a big flood," said Burleson. "Five buildings — the general store, too — were washed away, and one man had to tie his wagon to a tree to keep it from being washed away."

Burleson, a former master sergeant, is now retired after serving through three wars during a total of 22 in-and-out years with Uncle Sam's armed forces.

"The rest of the people here," he said "are hard-working tobacco farmers. I'm the only real loafer left."

"Oh, you wet a fishhook in the creek now and then," objected Fred Garland, proprietor of the new general store which stocks everything from snuff to overalls.

Garland is the unofficial president of the Chamber of Commerce and is determined to put Loafer's Glory back on the map. He is after the State Highway Department to put up a new sign. He has just paid out $5 apiece for two old hemlock benches from a remodeled church which he plans to put in front of his store to welcome all serious loafers. "I'll provide free wood for the whittlers," he said, "but I'll have to charge them for the knives."

It may take Loafer's Glory a long time to overtake New York — it doesn't even have a subway yet — but no one is in a real hurry. That's the nice thing about Loafer's Glory. Plus the fact there isn't a town in America with a better sense of humor.

NEEDLE MAN

ISHPEMING, Mich. (AP)—Jabs from a hypodermic needle don't bring the usual yelp of pain if John Hill has put his fine hand to work on the needle first

Hill, a polio victim, makes a living from his wheelchair by sharpening used hypodermic needles so they'll be better than new.

How much better? "Enough to add up to 30 per cent less operator effort, 60 per cent less pain and 100 per cent less plugging," says Hill.

He gets used needles from hospitals and doctors and puts them through a painstaking resharpening process. When he's done the needle can be poked into a pad of shoe leather without a jar—or into a human without a squeak.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fred Astaire still grieving the loss of his beloved wife, is finding that it helps to stay busy.

Now making "Funny Face" with Audrey Hepburn, he explained: "I already had two pictures lined up to do here at Paramount, but I decided to make this one, too. Audrey wanted me to do it, and I figured I'd better take the opportunity. Who knows when you'd get a chance to do another picture with her?

"We're going to Paris to do some dance scenes and other things and we'll be busy every minute of the time. There'll be no time for sightseeing, which is all right because I've spent half my life in Paris.

"As soon as I'm through there, I'll hurry right back and do the other two pictures without a day in between. My personal life has been so messed up in the past two years (His wife died in 1954) that I think maybe the best thing for me is to keep working."

As anybody in Hollywood knows, when Astaire works, he works. No fooling around with him. A perfectionist who claims never to have repeated a dance routine in films, he spends long hours in rehearsals before filming a dance. His numbers may seem gay and spontaneous on the screen, but they're the result of arduous effort.

Not content with his movie chores, he finds other things to keep him busy. He has a chain of dance studios. He has a successful racing stable and is glowing about a filly named Rainbow Tie that is showing winning ways in England.

"I've been writing songs again," added Astaire, long a frustrated Irving Berlin. "I've got one out now which is doing pretty well.

I made a record of it that's getting a good play." He proudly disclosed a clipping in which a disc jockey picked the tune, "Hello, Baby," among the top five records.

On top of all this, he is writing his autobiography.

On First Birthday, Polio Vaccine Seems Promising

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Much has been written about polio vaccination during the past year but the subject is still confusing.

The purpose of the Salk polio vaccine is to stimulate the tissues of the person inoculated in order to develop an active resistance to the distase virus. The hope is that the disease virus can be fought thus, within the body, so successfully that paralysis will not occur.

The preparation of this vaccine was designed to kill the various types of viruses konw to be responsible for paralytic polio.

In this way, the viruses cannot cause the disease when injected but do retain their power to stimulate the body to produce elements which will resist live viruses.

When tried on a mass scale last year there was some doubt as to whether all preparations had been treated sufficiently to kill the virus material present. By changes in the methods of preparing it and new safeguards, present lots of the vaccine seem to have been made completely safe.

How effective has the vaccine been in preventing the paralytic effects of polio? Last year there was not enough vaccine available to be given to all susceptible people. Therefore, the value of the vaccine in preventing polio has been estimated by comparing large numbers of children who had received the vaccine with other large numbers who had not.

Massachusetts apparently had the largest scale epidemic of polio last year. It was from this state that the best figures on preventive value were obtained.

Out of 137,968 children who received one dose of vaccine, 130 cases of polio developed. This gives an attack rate of 94.5 per hundred thousands.

Out of 22,673 youngsters who received two or more doses of the vaccine there were 15 cases of the disease. This gives a rate of 66.4 per hundred thousand.

Among the 278,532 unvaccinated children there were 553 cases of polio. This attack rate is 198.2 per hundred thousand.

In other words, the evidence indicates that in the Massachusetts epidemic the vaccine was effective in preventing paralysis in 60 out of 100 children.

The results are not perfect, but they are a lot better than anything available previously.

It is reasonable to suppose that improved methods of preparing the polio vaccine and larger supplies which will permit more inoculations will reduce still further the frequency of this dreadful disease.

But research must go on. It is not confined to this particular kind of vaccine only. For example, studies are being conducted on the possibilities of preparing a vaccine in which the dangerous viruses are weakened so that they cannot produce disease (rather than killed). This could be even more effective in stimulating resistance.

Time will give the answer to many remaining questions. In the meanwhile, the first really promising method of preventing polio has passed its first birthday.

Women Could Adopt Some of Men's Ways

There are some things women could learn from men. Here are a few of them:

They could learn to keep small change in their coin purses the way men keep it in their pockets. Then they would have the correct bus fare, the coin for the parking meter, the right change for a fifteen-cent purchase. And they wouldn't have to make a special trip to the cashier for change with which to tip the waiter.

They could learn not to interrupt when someone else is talking. Get a group of women to gether and they all fight to finish a sentence. But men, as a rule, let a man finish a story before getting into the act.

They could learn to take what they hear with a grain of sale instead of swallowing whole every bit of gossip that floats by and immediately giving it the dignity of fact.

They could learn to use their heads to figure out ways of making their daily chores as easy and businesslike as possible.

MORE LESSONS TO LEARN

They could learn to delegate work.

There's no more reason for a homemaker to do everything herself when she has a family who could share in home responsibilities than for a businessman to type his own letters when he has a secretary.

They could learn to spend just so much time on trying to work out a problem and then put it out of mind. They would then be free to concentrate on something else instead of worrying a problem the way a dog worries a bone.

They could learn to create a little excitement in their lives instead of meekly settling fore a dull routine. A man, fed up with responsibility, takes time off to go fishing. A woman ought to take time off to refresh her own outlook.

They could learn to be loyal to their own sex instead of looking for other women's faults and weaknesses.

Thinking It Over—

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Whenever some charity is in dire need of support or faces a crisis in expanding its services to mankind, it has to raise funds to pay the necessary bills. People are interested in seeing that the work is done and that society is served but they like to have someone else pay the costs.

There seems to be some special pain associated with giving to others and to their needs. But there is no pain involved if selfish desires are satisfied.

If people feel that they are getting something for themselves they are willing to give reasonable amounts without objecting.

As a result, our charitable campaigns are sugar-coated and people do not know they are giving. They pay large amounts for worthless white elephants. They buy tickets for shows where a celebrity appears momentarily. They drive colored nails in pictures for a price, and sit endlessly on bleachers at amateur shows.

Of course there is nothing wrong with the amateur shows and with much of the sugar coating. The amazing problem is that people do not really want to give for the sake of giving.

They do not really want to share what they have with others unless they fool themselves into thinking they have received more than the joy of giving.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two years ago Thursday the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation by race. What has happened since then? Much and nothing. There has been compliance and defiance. There has been no crisis yet. One may come.

The court's ruling affected 17 states and the District of Columbia where white and Negro students were compelled by law to attend separate schools. A number of them have desegregated, more or less.

The hard core of resistance is in the deep South, particularly in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia, whose legislatures have passed resolutions either flatly or obliquely defying the Supreme Court.

The court has not set a time limit on desegregation. It has ordered the lower federal courts to see that the states comply with "deliberate speed."

The crisis, if it comes, may come if the deep South still refuses to budge when the lower courts say it is time to quit stalling. It is questionable many Southern leaders will wish to put the nation in crisis by persistence in their refusal.

What will the federal government do to back up the court's ruling if, through unyielding Southern defiance, a crisis does come? No one in high position has produced an answer to that one.

No one can say precisely what "deliberate speed" means. But it's certain the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) will not wait indefinitely for action without going into the lower courts.

Southern defiance has taken various forms: Open criticism of the Supreme Court, action by state legislatures, action by private groups, economic pressure on Negroes.

In turn Negroes, feeling for the first time in this century the Supreme Court was behind them, have become active in collective efforts to force an end to segregation, including economic pressure. Since Dec. 5, 1955, Negroes in Montgomery, Ala., have boycotted the city's segregated busses.

Many Southern whites have derided the nine Supreme Court justices, whose antisegregation ruling was unanimous, as politicians who were invading states rights and usurping the rights of Congress.

On March 12 over 100 Southern senators and representatives signed a "manifesto" calling the court's ruling illegal and pledging their states would use "every lawful means" of seeking its reversal.

These Southerners accused the court of trying to legislate. But there would be no civil rights legislation, and no end to school segregation, if it depended on the Southerners.

They have prevented Congress for years from passing civil rights legislation by filibustering or threatening to filibuster. They justify this on the ground that a minority has a right to protect itself against what it considers the injustice of a majority.

Southerners want it both ways, one way in Congress, another back home.

Back home, white legislatures pass segregation laws. They justify this on the ground that it is the will of the majority. Negroes are not in a position to filibuster in Southern legislatures.

What sometimes gets lost sight of is that the Supreme Court has not yet ruled on whether all forms of segregation are unlawful. It has outlawed segregation in schools and in recreation areas and on interstate busses.

But what of segregation in other areas of Southern life, like theaters or restaurants?

In the two years since the school decision the court hasn't said clearly whether segregation is wrong in any place or activity where public funds are not used.

Marshall Plan a Success, So Missions Are Being Closed

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— U. S. International Cooperation Administration Offices, administering foreign aid in Bonn, Germany, and Vienna, Austria, will be closed July 1. Later in the year, says ICA Administrator John B. Hollister, offices in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France, will be closed.

This will make nine U. S. foreign economic aid missions liquidated in Europe in this fiscal year. Five were closed last September. They were in The Netherlands, Portugal, Denmark, Norway and Belgium-Luxembourg.

It will leave only five of the original Marshall Plan missions going. The principal one will be in London, for which no closing date has been set. It is still administering a sizeable program of U. S. surplus disposal for British currency counterpart funds to help finance British defense.

The Greek And Turkish Missions will be continued. Aid to these two countries and their military defense is now linked more closely with the eastern Mediterranean area.

U. S. economic aid missions in Spain and Yugoslavia are also being continued, but these two countries are not in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Thus far, Spain has been allocated 232 million dollars in defense support and Yugoslavia 336 million. For next year, 45 million dollars in defense support funds are being requested for Spain and 30 million for Yugoslavia.

Actually, U. S. aid to Europe has been tapering off gradually for the past two years. No new programs have been started since July, 1954. The only continuing program is 12 million dollars for next year, requested to aid West Berlin's industries and help care for refugees coming from behind the Iron Curtain through East Berlin.

So By and Large, The Marshall Plan, which was started with such a great surge of enthusiasm in 1948 and continued in the Mutual Security Program in 1953, will be liquidated by mid-1957. Its main function, which was to aid in the economic recovery of war - torn Europe, has succeeded.

What it proves is that these foreign aid programs do not have to go on forever, but can be terminated in time.

This fact has been generally lost sight of in all the hullabaloo over President Eisenhower's request for 4.9 billion dollars to run the mutual assistance programs next year. This year's appropriation was only 2.7 billion dollars. There are 6.6 billion dollars worth of foreign aid supplies on order but not delivered.

These are the figures which make most critics of foreign aid think that it is a constantly expanding and never ending program.

The Important Point most frequently overlooked in this criticism is that the big item is military aid —which must apparently continue indefinitely for U. S. security.

Out of next year's 4.9 billion dollars requested for foreign aid, 3 billion will be for military aid. And practically all of the 6.6 billion is unspent aid funds will go for military supplies.

Beginning with the Marshall Plan in 1948, the 17 free countries of western Europe have received 13.5 billion dollars worth of economic assistance. Beginning with the Korean war threats to the free world in 1950, military aid to European countries has also totaled 13.5 billion.

U. S. economic aid to Europe has been declining steadily from 5.7 billion dollars in 1949 to 100 million in 1955 and 1956. In this same period, what the recovering European countries have spent on their own defense has risen from 6.3 billion in 1950 to 12.4 billion this year. The seven-year total is nearly 75 billion dollars. It's better than five dollars for every one U. S. dollar invested in Europe's defense.

American Menu

Twin Heart Avocado Molds Honor Bride and Groom

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Yesterday we described a wedding reception buffet for 40 guests that cost only $32.26 to serve. This was the menu: Twin heart avocado molded salad, chicken flower pot sandwiches, cream cheese and fresh vegetable sandwiches, wedding cake (made at home with cake mixes), fresh fruit champagne or fresh fruit reception punch, salted nuts and mints.

Here are two of the recipes:

Twin Hearts Avocada Mold
(Yield: 16 to 20 servings)

Soften 6 envelopes unflavored gelatin in 1½ cups cold water. Add 3 cups hot water and stir until dissolved. Blend in 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups fresh lemon juice, and 2 cups fresh orange juice. Mix ¼ cup of this mixture with a few drops of red vegetable coloring and pour into heart indentations in bottom of 2 oiled, 6-cup heart-shaped salad molds. (If your molds are plain on the bottom, omit this step). Chill until firm, 45 to 60 minutes. While the red hearts are chilling, beat 4 cups adocado puree into remaining gelatin mixture and leave at room temperature until the hearts have set. Spoon gelatin-avocado mixture over the hearts very gently, being careful not to disturb them. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Unmold onto serving platter. Write names or initials of the bride and groom on the hearts with stiff mayonnaise forced through a decorator's tube. Garnish with chicory, fresh strawberries and avocado or cantaloupe balls. Note: Cost for 2 heart molds—$3.45.

Chicken and Fresh Vegetable Flowerpot Sandwiches
(Yield: 36 to 40 sandwiches)

Combine 2 cups finely chopped cooked chicken, ½ cup finely chopped celery, ½ cup finely shredded fresh carrots, 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, and 3 tablespoons mayonnaise. Mix well and chill while preparing the bread. Cut unsliced 2-day old, firm bread 1¼-inches thick. Cut in rounds with a 1½-inch cookie cutter. Then shape to resemble little round flower pots by pulling out centers of rounds and filling them with the chicken salad mixture. Stick a smal ltwig of fresh parsley in center of each to resemble a growing plant. Place on a tray, cover with a damp cloth, and store in refrigerator until ready to serve. Note: Total Cost—$1.75.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Avocado and grapefruit cup, fresh or frozen shrimp creole, fluffy rice, mixed fresh vegetable salad, garlic French bread, maple sugar cake, coffee, tea, milk.

First Presbyterian To Dedicate Organ

First Presbyterian church's new organ will be dedicated Sunday, May 20 at 4:00 p.m., with a concert played by Robert Glasgow of the MacMurray College faculty.

Mr. Glasgow will play a program, chosen from the sacred and recital organ repertoire, which will demonstrate the musical versatility of the new organ. During the course of the program he will comment on the organ and the selections to be played, in order that the audience may better understand and appreciate the new instrument and its music.

The new Moller Organ was installed by W. A. Brummer of the Midwest Organ Company, who has augmented the basic new organ with several ranks of pipes from the original Johnson organ installed in Westminster Presbyterian church in 1866. This provides a two-manual organ with unusual variety and quality of tone. Music lovers and friends of the church are invited to Sunday's concert.

The organ is the result of gifts by many members of the congregation, all of which were received without any personal solicitation. The Session of the church has ordered that all these gifts be recognized at the dedication service, but that special recognition be given a $10,000 bequest from the estate of the late Ralph Goin, whose genuine interest in and enthusiasm for his church were so important in the successful launching of the program of the new First Presbyterian church.

The new organ was selected after intensive investigation and planning by a committee headed by Mrs. B. C. Nelms, the church's director of music. Other members of the committee were Dr. Ralph Robbins, Mrs. J. C. Colton, John Hackett, and Everett Long, with Mrs. W. R. Bellatti, Mrs. Elizabeth Paul, and the pastor of the church, the Rev. Joseph Baus, acting as advisors.

Financial plans were handled by the board of trustees, with Robert DuBois, chairman of the finance committee.

Ashland Prom Summer Garden Scene Saturday

ASHLAND— A summer rose garden was the scene depicted for the Ashland high school Junior-Senior Prom held Saturday night, May 12, in the school auditorium.

A delicious banquet was served to members of the two classes and faculty and guests by the Mother's Club of the MYF of the Methodist church. The menu included fruit cup, fried chicken, twice baked potatoes, green beans, pear salad, hot rolls and butter, strawberry topped ice cream, iced tea or coffee.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated with colored crepe paper streamers and balloons. Roses entwined garden lattice and protected an improvised fountain surrounded with a small white picket fence.

The program at the banquet included the invocation by Mrs. Helen Amant; welcome, Dennis Bast; response by Mary Price; senior prophecy by Darelene Douglass.

Music for the dancing from 9 to 12 midnight was furnished by the Virginia Boy's Quintet. Many parties in private homes followed the late dancing hours.

About 63 per cent of Americans live in separate private homes.

U. S. farmers used 16 billion gallons of crude oil in 1955.

Beauty of Tall Flowers Enhances Garden Picture

Hardy Asters Blossom In Early Fall.

Flowers speak with color, form and height of growth. Like the neighbors in your block, they differ. By their contrast with each other, flowers excite interest in your garden. Proper blending of their beauty brings out the best in each.

Tall flowering plants form the backdrop for your stage-full of blossoms. Because they are used to help screen out background views, they naturally are seldom planted alone.

There are many tall growing flowers which can be used this way, including both annuals and perennials. Where space is limited they can serve better than shrubbery for their roots do not compete with other flowers as does shrubbery. Some are among the old-fashioned flowers which are new again, and will be admired by visitors to your garden who are not familiar with them.

For an attractive background screen for your earlier flowers, try Boltonia asteroides (false chamomile). It grows 6 feet tall with a leafy plant. In late summer its daisy-like white flowers come and remain until October, giving you one of the few perennials which blossom in the fall.

For large clusters of "forget-me-not" flowers of gentian blue in June and July, try Anchusa Italica Dropmore which grows 5 feet tall.

Hardy Asters, true American flowers (which the British call Michaelmas daisies) are perennials you can grow from seed. Their white, crimson, pink and blue flowers are grown on bushes that may reach 5 feet in height.

Gypsophila (Baby's Breath) grows 4 feet tall, bearing myriads of small pink or white blossoms in late summer.

Single and double hollyhocks are among the most highly decorative flowers for a border background. They grow quickly from seed to a height of six feet or more, with flowers including many tones of red, pink and orange. The flowering season can be lengthened many weeks if faded blossoms are picked to prevent seed formation.

Liatris September Glory (Kansas Gay Feather) is a 6 foot beauty whose stalks are covered in late summer with feathery purple flowers.

Thalictrum (meadow rue) is a delicate flower with feathery leaves which grows 5 feet tall, and while never taking the spotlight, always provides a pleasing background for more brilliant blossoms.

A 4-foot perennial Verbena (bonariensis) bears fragrant lavender flowers from seed the first year.

All the above are perennials which grow easily from seed, and once established will perform their roles in the garden picture for many years.

Among tall growing annuals are gaillardia—flowered sunflowers which grow 4 to 8 feet tall, and have fully double flowers of chestnut red and yellow, which give height and color to the garden background, where there is room for a considerable group.

THERE were several more pages of the manuscript and Basil Willing paused before continuing to read. Things were beginning to clear up for him now. At last he turned his attention back to the statement written by John Hazard before his death. Basil Willing read:

"Whether the Mexican woman knew about ballistics or not, our Captain would know and I reminded Byrd Cushing of this.

" 'The captain won't investigate any further if the Mexicans don't press charges,' he replied. 'He doesn't believe one of us is guilty because none of us tried to run for it when we were under pressure. And, of course, the captain doesn't want to believe one of us is guilty. Anything that reflects on the troop, reflects on him. I'd be willing to bet he won't do another thing. It's all over now, past and done with.'

"But I said, 'Is it, Byrd? Is anything ever past and done with?' And I was right, although he was right about the captain.

"The experience changed both of us. We ceased to be boys before our 17th birthdays. We had learned to know our own weakness as well as the weakness of others and that is growing up. Our great adventure of running away and joining the Army now seemed a pretty juvenile escapade. Byrd didn't argue a few days later when I told him I was writing my mother to tell her where I was. And I'm sure he was as relieved as I when we were both discharged a few months later.

"Soon after I went East to college and entered another life so different that there were times when I almost wondered if I were really the same person. It was like another incarnation, a new life in another time and place, with myself as changed as my environment.

"I didn't see Byrd again until years later when I was practicing law in New York and he was a commercial airline pilot. We were married and you were with me, Allie, when I met him that next time, on our honeymoon.

• • •

"DO you remember that vacation I took with Byrd in Mexico a year later? He hunted me up in New York and showed me a letter he had just received from Mexico. It was written on thin, green paper in a fine, spidery hand and it was from the woman, Mercedes Maria Mendoza. I hadn't even remembered her name. She wrote she was dying, and demanded that we come to see her. 'How did she know our names?' I asked Byrd.

" 'Tim Rafferty must have told her long ago,' Byrd said.

"I know Tim must have been positive all along that we were the men who had visited her that night. We may have fooled the captain, but we didn't fool Tim. He had told Byrd about the woman and Byrd and I had been together.

"Mrs. Mendoza had sent her letter to Byrd in care of the War Department. It had been forwarded to Byrd in care of his father.

"Byrd got leave from his job, chartered a small plane and flew me down to a Mexican airport. We rented a car there and drove to the village. It had changed quite a bit—souvenir shops for tourists, American drug stores, some paved streets. Senora Mendoza was living at another address, an apartment in a new four-story building. She was gray at the temples and very thin, but her eyes were still handsome and defiant. She told us quite simply that she was dying of cancer. Her little girl was now 10 years old. She had no relatives and her husband's family had repudiated her and her daughter. She looked to us to provide for the child, for she held us responsible for her husband's death, and she reminded us that her failure to identify us had saved us from prison.

" 'But we didn't shoot your husband,' said Byrd bluntly. 'You did.'

" 'I saved your life by shooting him,' she told Byrd. 'You owe me a great deal, senor. The bullet that was taken from his body is still in the black museum of our police department. The Army gun you used is presumably in the possession of another soldier now, but archives will show it was yours at that time. If the two were compared . . .'

"She left the sentence open. 'I believe there is no statute of limitations for murder,' she went on.

• • •

"SHE was much more knowledgeable and intelligent than we had ever realized, or she had become so since she had had to fend for herself and support her daughter. And of course she was right. We did owe her a great deal. We owed her our lives and our liberty.

"As a lawyer I knew that once you make any kind of reparation you are admitting guilt, the assumption being that no one makes reparation unless there is a wrong to be repaired. But what else could we do? Senora Mendoza said she had been supporting herself by renting rooms to tourists. She spoke bitterly of the poverty and narrowness of village life in Mexico. She had heard of the more comfortable life in America from her boarders. Why couldn't one of us adopt her child so that the little girl could be brought up in America with a good education and every material advantage? The child was clever. She had already learned idiomatic English from the American boarders and spoke it almost entirely without a foreign accent, mimicking what she heard, as children do, far more exactly than an adult can."

Mormons Braved Many Hardships On Pioneer Trek Across Plains

By HOWARD S. BENEDICT

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — One hundred years ago more than 1,000 Europeans sailed from England on the first leg of a history-making journey to Utah.

They were to be the first pioneers to cross the central and western plains by handcart.

These men, women and children were "poor European converts" to the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church, which was building its "Zion" in Great Salt Lake Valley in 1856.

The Europeans had wanted desperately to migrate to Utah but felt they could not afford the cost of such a long journey.

This prompted Brigham Young, president of the Mormons, to declare on Feb. 6, 1856:

"Let them come on foot, with handcarts or wheelbarrows; let them gird up their loins and walk through, and nothing shall hinder them."

European converts received inspiration from these words, and hundreds began preparations to go to America. In April two ships sailed with the first groups.

The converts landed in America and traveled by train to the plains of Iowa, reaching Iowa City early in June.

Here a traveler to Utah usually had to shop around for a wagon and oxen for the trip across the plains.

But the Mormon Church had set up a carpenter shop to build handcarts in Iowa City. And the converts found the carts waiting for them, at a cost of $10 each.

They bought necessary provisions, and the first company of 500 persons headed west June 15. Another group of 400 followed June 17 and a third of 200 June 23.

What manner of conveyance was this handcart in which men, women and children pushed and pulled their worldly possessions more than 1,300 miles to Utah?

It had two large wheels and was made mostly of oak, with the axle formed out of strong hickory. The pulling shafts extended three or four feet in front of the cart body so that the lead man, woman or boy could easily pull it. The body of the cart was 7 feet long and 18 inches deep.

Only babies and sick children rode in the cart with food, bedding and household goods. The rest of the family walked to Utah.

The journey was a tough one, full of hardships. Edmund Ellsworth, who led the first handcart company, wrote:

"I had to labor with the people by showing them there was honor attached to pulling handcarts into the valley—far more than in having to be carried in a wagon to the valleys of the mountains."

The first three companies averaged 15 miles a day—more than was averaged by oxen and wagon—and all arrived in Salt Lake Valley late in September and early in October. A few had died and were buried along the route.

Brigham Young hailed the handcart companies as a great success, and other European converts prepared to leave for America.

Then disaster struck two other companies, which left England in June and which didn't leave Iowa until late August.

Both companies — totaling 988 converts—were slowed by muddy trails in Nebraska. In western Nebraska, a herd of stampeding buffalo scattered one company and destroyed many handcarts.

"But the biggest factor that made the tragedy inevitable," Daniel W. Jones, a member of one of the companies wrote, "was the fact that heavy snows and extremely cold weather set in much earlier than usual.

"By the middle of September, heavy frosts made the nights uncomfortable. It was impossible for the members of the company to keep warm with their scant supply of clothing.

"The more delicate ones died and were hastily buried along the wayside . . .

"Snow fell heavily when we reached Wyoming. The train was strung out for three or four miles. There were old men pulling and tugging at their carts, many of which were loaded with sick wives and children. We saw little children struggling through the snow and mud. As night came the mud and snow froze to their clothing.

"Food supplies rapidly vanished and there was no chance to replenish them. We started rationing food.

"Deaths were so frequent that a burying squad was appointed."

Messengers were sent ahead to Salt Lake Valley to tell of the plight of the companies.

Brigham Young immediately organized a relief train of 250 wagon teams.

The relief train found the starving companies encamped in Wyoming, all hope of rescue gone.

The half-frozen survivors were carried by wagon to Salt Lake Valley. They arrived the first week in November.

The death rate was high—225 had died en route.

But the tragedy did not discourage European converts. In the next four years five more handcart companies made their way to Utah. Two arrived in 1857, one in 1858 and two in 1860. They had better luck than the Willie and Martin companies, although nature and hardship took their toll in all five.

In all, more than 4,000 persons reached "Zion" with the handcart companies.

Then in 1861, Brigham Young adopted a new method of bringing the converts to Utah. He dispatched wagon trains to meet the emigrants at the western terminus of the railroad, which by 1861 had reached eastern Wyoming and which extended farther west each year until in 1869 the transcontinental railroad was forged in northern Utah.

Atomic Scientists Test Liquid Fuel Reactor

By BILL RAWLINS

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Atomic scientists have begun tests on a liquid fuel reactor, or atomic furnace, which they believe holds promise of atomic power as cheap as coal by 1969.

The reactor, in which liquir atomic fuels are mixed together much like milk and cream in homogenized milk, is an improved version of a one which generated enough electricity at Oak Ridge to light 50 houses. Because of the way the liquid fuels are mixed, it is called a homogeneous reactor.

It is one of five reactor types which the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) is developing at various installations as a prelude to economical, peacetime atomic power.

"Economical" is the key word. Dr. Alvin M. Weinberg, director of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, points out that atomic power now is far too expensive to compete with power generated at coal-fired steam plants.

As it stands now, it would cost as much as 5 cents per kilowatt hour to generate electricity on a large scale with atomic energy. This compares with Tennessee Valley Authority's cost of about 3-10ths of a cent per kwh for electricity generated at its steam plants.

"There is little question that ultimately nuclear energy will be as cheap as coal energy," Weinberg said. "And there is little question that our coal reserves ultimately will disappear."

Asked when he thought atomic power could compete on a cost basis with coal power, Weinberg said, "I think there's a good chance that we'll have competitive nuclear power by 1969."

Weinberg noted that Great Britain already face a coal shortage, and is going ahead with plans for eight gas-cooled atomic power stations which, while expensive to operate, are considered essential to Britain's economic survival.

There is no need for such a rush in the United States. The AEC consequently has time to experiment to cut down the cost of power production. The AEC indicates it is optimistic that the homogeneous reactor ultimately will do the job. A year ago, the AEC gave this statement, regarding its power reactor program, to the joint congressional committee on atomic energy in Washington:

"Major effort is directed toward a two-region thorium system (the homogeneous reactor), believed to be capable of producing lower cost power than other designs with fewer remaining development problems."

Asked if this optimism still exists, S. E. Beall, project engineer for the homogeneous reactor test, replied:

"Yes. The whole basis for our job is the belief that this system in the long run will prove to be the most economical."

The test reactor should be operated by fall, and Beall says, "We should know in about a month of operation just what it will do."

"I LOVE YOU, DR. DEAVER"—That's what this six-year-old girl wrote. The "I" is Denise (last name withheld), who was born with only a left leg and no arms. The "Dr. Deaver," right, is director of the children's division of the NYU-Bellevue Institute of Physical Rehabilitation in New York. City Youths Learn Farming, Prepare To Live In Israel

HIGHTSTOWN, N. J. (AP)—Some 26 city-bred youths, whose hands have never guided a plow before, are working from dawn to dusk on a New Jersey farm in preparation for spending the rest of their days making the harsh desert of Israel bloom.

As part of their training, these future pioneers, who will settle along Israel's explosive borders, are being given special lessons on how to win friends among the Arabs who will be their neighbors.

The youths, ranging in age from 18 to 23, work up to 10 hours a day, six days a week, on nearby Hechaluiz Farm, the only one of its kind in the United States.

Since its beginning more than 20 years ago, the farm has schooled more than 600 young people in the rigor and skills needed to cultivate land that has lain fallow for 2,000 years. The training program is sponsored by a Zionist organization called Hashomer Hatzair.

The present group is being taught how to nurture and tend chickens and cows, how to plow, sow and reap, how to care for fruit trees and gardens, how to cook and do laundry for the whole farm, and how to exist, if necessary, on short supplies of water.

"Life at the farm is communal, similar to the way it was lived thousands of years ago in ancient Israel," said Mihail Frishburg, 33, director of the trainees and a veteran pioneer.

"Most of the people stay at the farm for a year or more," he added, "before going over. In Israel they will set up a communal farm of their own, breaking the ground, building the houses, finding the water. All this will be done along the frontier.

"It is like the pioneers who went West, living in stockades and working the soil until the land was eventually filled by farms and cities."

Mihail, who has lived side by side with the Arabs as a farmer in Israel, stresses to the trainees the need to learn Arab culture and customs so that both groups can live peaceably together.

During discussion seminars in the evening they are taught it is impolite to refuse an Arab's invitation to dinner even if you are not hungry and when you are finished eating you can show your best manners by belching, a sign you have enjoyed the meal.

Home Bureau Activities

The Town and Country Unit of Morgan-Scott Home Bureau was entertained in the home of Mrs. E. H. Garlich at 1612 Mound May 10 at 8 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by the unit chairman, Mrs. Fay Mentler, who led the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Merriman, program chairman, presented Mrs. Ruth Massey, who gave the selected subject "Oven Meals." She prepared an oven dessert of peach pudding and later passed the finished product for all to sample. The major lesson, "Wood Floors and Suitable Finishes" was given by Mrs. H. C. Merriman. She had samples of flooring and floor finishes that are durable and practical.

Mrs. George Waters conducted a short recreation period. The minutes of the April meeting were read and approved. The treasurer, vice president and 4-H chairman made their reports. Mrs. Merriman announced that straw for hats and bags has arrived and a date was planned to do this work. Roll call was answered by 20 members and one guest.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostess and her co-hostess, Mrs. E. B. Marshall.

Fashion Takes It Easy On Vacation

Three Ways To Style Your Summer

For a vacation, a gal should pick a wardrobe with as much all-round practicality as possible. But since vacation time is also time for fun, the clothes should be more festive than usual. Brightly striped cotton knit (left) makes a sheath that's cool and casual. It's been treated so it won't shrink or stretch. Pastel checked gingham (center) has full skirt and bare top with rhinestone buttons. Capri pants in denim drip dry, take no ironing. T-shirt has cowl neckline. All by Stephanie Koret.

BY GAILE DUGAS,
NEA Women's Editor

New York—(NEA)—Women can be defined in many different ways, and there's nothing dearer to the hearts of men (psychiatrists, ministers, husbands) than this process of definition. They're constantly at it, verbally and in the printed word.

When you get around to the matter of summer vacation wardrobes, women become very easy to handle. They fall into three general classes: (a) those who like to ge dressy (b) those who favor blue jeans and T-shirts and (c) those who combine dressy dresses and the practical, practically no-iron kind of clothes.

This year, all three classes will be made happy by the clothes designers have readied for them. Designers have taken into consideration the facts that all women do not lead completely air-conditioned lives all summer long, that price is a point, that fabrics must hold their own, and that travel can be hot, dusty and wrinkling, as well as scenic.

They also know that a gal likes to look well on vacation, no matter what her size. She may be isolated most of the year with small tots and neighbors, but on her vacation, she has an audience and wants to bloom.

Women will find lots of machine-washable cottons this year, good-looking fashions that are moderately priced. Most of these will need touching up with the iron even though they're classed as drip-dry.

Many of them are wrinkle-resistant, and lots of the cotton knits are guaranteed not to shrink, sag or stretch out of shape. (It's wise to look for a hang-tag carrying this guarantee, however.)

Every vacation wardrobe should include at least one dressy dress unless you're going to spend three weeks in a cave.

This one might be a cotton you'll have dry-cleaned, on the theory that you will wear it fewer times and want to give it more careful treatment than it will get in a machine. Therefore, you can indulge yourself with embroidery, rhinestone sparkle or other fripperies.

While away, Mrs. Thompson and husband attended her class reunion at Pella, Iowa, and also the Tuliptime Festival which was being held at the same place.

TURTLE'S BEST FRIEND—Buster, a mongrel with charitable ways, brought home a turtle and apparently has adopted it. His owners, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kirk of Dallas, Texas, haven't been able to approach either one since. Kirk hopes that Buster will get hungry enough to allow outside help in the care and feeding of the shell-backed newcomer.

Kentucky U. Attributes Success In Integration To Evolution Plan

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The University of Kentucky has had seven years of successful racial integration and its president thinks it's because the problem was tackled through "evolution, not revolution."

Five years before the U.S. Supreme Court's explosive decision of 1954 the university admitted its first Negro students.

The program has flourished without fuss or incidents.

There is no quota for Negro students. They intermingle freely on the campus. They use the same cafeteria, and, says Dr. Herman L. Donovan, university president: "If and when a dormitory application comes from a Negro, he probably will be received."

Today there are 83 Negroes, from freshmen to graduate students, on the campus of 7,200.

Integration began at the university in 1949, when a federal court ordered it to admit a Negro graduate student for work in the field of history.

Dr. Donovan urged the Board of Trustees not to appeal the ruling and, that summer, 12 Negro students were admitted.

Dr. Donovan said he called them to his office to ask:

"Do you want this program to succeed?"

Each replied "Yes" and Dr. Donovan asked—not told—them to stick together during the early stages of the program.

After a year's time, he said, "it just worked itself out" and when the Supreme Court handed down its ruling, the university was ready to accept it as "the law of the land."

Dr. Donovan, past president of the Southern Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools and last year's president of the National Assn. of State Universities, concedes that the problem in the Deep South is greater.

Integration, Dr. Donovan says, should be a slow process in areas of the nation where segregation has long been accepted as the rule.

Dr. Donovan believes that "agitators" are forcing the integration issue in the South.

He says, "If it hadn't been for agitators, the Civil War never would have taken place. If the agitators continue, they may have to put troops in the South, and that would be a terrible thing."

"Time," he says, "heals many sores."

The Eskimos use wooden goggles with slits to guard against glare.

ATTEND NURSING LEAGUE CONFERENCE

Mrs. Lois Latshaw, director of nurses at Passavant Hospital, and Mrs. Helen Sample, associate director of nursing service at the hospital, attended a meeting of the Council of Agency Members in the Department of Diploma and Associate Degrees Program of the National League of Nursing, held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago Friday and Saturday.

This conference was for the purpose of studying the criteria for the evaluation of schools of nursing.

Discuss Social Agencies' Role In Public Welfare

A panel discussion by various social agencies was conducted in the aid room of Passavant hospital between 1 and 3 p.m. Wednesday.

The meeting centered about a discussion of the place social agencies have in public welfare.

Participants included Irwin Aufdenkamp of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, K. V. Beerup of the Morgan County Relief office, Miss Bea Lovett of the Morgan County Child Welfare office, C. O. Gordon of the Illinois Rehabilitation office, Miss Ethel Glascock of the Morgan County Public Health office and Dr. James Chapman, Morgan County public health director.

Mrs. Lois Latshaw, director of nurses at Passavant hospital, also attended the meeting together with head nurses, staff nurses and student nurses. Coffee was served following the meeting.

The average worker in the United States loses seven and one-half work days a year because of temporary illness.

Home Bureau Activities

The Cheerful Unit of Morgan-Scott Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Miller Obert Friday afternoon, May 4. Group singing of "End Of A Perfect Day" with Mrs. Tillie Schone at the piano opened the meeting.

Mrs. Obert, president, conducted the business session.

A membership tea will be held May 23 from 2 to 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Black.

Highlights of the county board meeting were read. Mrs. Seth Thorndike reported on membership and Mrs. Henry Pahlman was accepted as a new member of the group.

The major lesson, "Floor Finishes," was given by Mrs. Andrew Detmer. Mrs. Miller Obert presented the minor lesson, "Oven Meals." She prepared peach pudding, which she later served to the members.

Nine members answered roll call by naming a favorite flower.

Mrs. Ray Schone, recreation chairman, conducted a contest. Mrs. Andrew Detmer read the reports of the secretary and treasurer.

The group will next meet June 1 at 2 p.m. (CST) with Mrs. Earl White.

Guests present included Mrs. Henry Pahlman, Mrs. Oren Humes, Mrs. Glenn Schone and Gary Schone.

JHS Tromps Rockets In Sub-District

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It didn't take Freddie Hutchinson long to demonstrate that baseball people were right.

The Cardinals of 1955 were the best seventh place club they ever saw.

What's the principal difference between the dispirited aggregation that couldn't wait for last season to end and the supercharged outfit which roared into Brooklyn without having lost a series since it kicked off the spring exhibition schedule with the Yankees in St. Petersburg, March 10?

"The maturing of our second, third and fourth-year men," says the modest Hutchinson, but that isn't what the older heads say.

"Hutch treats the players like adults," explains the Old Red Bird.

"He gave the players their heads and they're running that way," testifies Coach Terry Moore. "He handles the players like professionals, let's them think for themselves, hit and run, steal, etc., on their own.

"For the first time in five years, this club is relaxed on and off the field. Mistakes are corrected without the entire dugout and dressing room being upset. The players are told quietly, but firmly."

• • •

Moore, the one-time peerless center fielder, recalls Eddie Stanky wanting the blokes in the red blazers under his fingers. Muggsy, mimicking Leo Durocher, over-managed. Pitchers pitched with one eye on the dugout, etc. The damage was irremediable when Harry Walker succeeded Stanky rather early last trip. It called for a new deal all-round.

The St. Louis club has a practical baseball man, Frank Lane, at its head for the first time since the late Sam Breadon sold the franchise to Fred Saigh.

"The club is well balanced," stresses Manager Hutchinson. "It has a bench."

Young Don Blasingame, the most valuable recruit in the American Association in 1955, came along to supplant Alex Grammas at shortstop and give the Cardinals more verve and speed.

"The club hadn't got anywhere with Grammas at shortstop," reasons Hutch. "Blasingame is always in there digging. We can always fall back on Grammas."

• • •

The Cardinals are no longer suckers for left-hand pitching. Ken Boyer has developed into the big right-hand hitter the club required. Rip Repulski gets needed encouragement batting behind Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial and Boyer.

Harvey Haddix was supposed to be the key Cardinal who went to the Phillies in the deal that brought Murry Dickson and Herman Wehmeier.

"Haddix wasn't doing anything for us and if we waited much longer we couldn't get as much for him," elucidates Hutch. "That's one reason we made the deal.

"Another is that we have to have right-hand pitching to head off the Dodgers and Braves."

Someone remarked that Herman the German Wehmeier's lifetime record against the Cardinals was 0 and 14, added that this should help.

"And he's beaten the Dodgers 15 times," countered Hutch. "That also should help. Dickson lost no time lending us a hand."

If the Cardinals don't continue to move, it won't be because Frank Lane and Freddie Hutchinson sit still.

Braves Thump Giants 7-3 To Bolster NL Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Crafty Warren Spahn, winning his third straight, coasted in on an eight-hitter and didn't walk a man Thursday night as the Milwaukee Braves thumped the New York Giants 7-3 to bolster their slim National League lead.

Spahn gave up a run in the third but kept the Giants' hits well scattered until the ninth when Willie Mays doubled and Don Mueller homered.

The third-inning run by the Giants snapped the 35-year-old southpaw's shutout string at 21 2-3 innings while he hung up his 186th major league victory, tops among active National League hurlers.

The Braves swung for 10 hits while packaging the victory in a four-run seventh that chased starter Ruben Gomez to his second defeat in three decisions.

Five of the Milwaukee blows were for extra bases, including Del Crandall's fourth homer of the year in the fourth inning and Hank Aaron's two-run triple that greeted reliefer Marv Grissom in the big seventh also doubled.

Robinson Favored To Knock Out Olson Friday

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson of New York remains the general favorite to knock out Bobo Olson of San Francisco and hang on to his world middleweight championship Friday night.

But discussion Thursday sounded like that of six months ago in Chicago.

It runs: Robinson must stow Bobo away early or Olson's younger years and stamina will make a difference in the last five or six rounds and he could well whip Robinson.

In Chicago Robinson knocked Bobo cold in two rounds.

Most of the experts look for a repeat performance when the two climb into the ring at Wrigley Field and the bell rings at about 7 p.m. (8 p.m. CST).

The National Broadcasting Co. will televise and broadcast the fight nationally.

Las Vegas gambling people quoted Robinson as a 7-5 favorite, with not too much interest evident in the actual betting marts. They must figure both fighters are too much of a cash risk—Robinson, at 35, long past his prime; Olson a three-time loser already to Robinson.

Robinson first won the title in 1951. He lost the crown and won it back the same year in matches with Randy Turpin of England. In December 1952 he retired.

Olson took undisputed claim to the crown when he whipped Turpin in New York in 1953.

Boyer's Hitting Gives Cards 5-4 Win Over Haddix And Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The second place St. Louis Cardinals kept pace just behind Milwaukee Thursday night with a 5-4 victory over Philadelphia and former Cardinal pitcher Harvey Haddix. The Cards won despite a ninth inning Phillies rally.

Ken Boyer was the Bird's big power at the plate. The third baseman banged out a home run in the sixth, a double in the eighth to break a 2-2 tie and a single in the ninth. His blows brought in three runs.

But the Phillies rebounded in the ninth for two runs. Willie Jones came home on Frank Baumholtz fly ball after Jones had been moved to third on Jim Greengrass's single and Marv Blaylock came in from second on Richie Ashburn's single.

It was the first appearance for Haddix, traded last week to the Phils, against his former teammates. The southpaw was lifted, with credit for 7 1-3 innings, and was replaced by righthander Ron Negray.

Haddix scored the Phillies' first run, however, in his first time at bat against St. Louis. His double to the left field wall in the second inning scored Jones from second.

Whitey Ford Gains 6th Victory As Yankees Blast White Sox 10-3

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The New York Yankees wove their usual spell over the Chicago White Sox Thursday 10-3, uncorking a six-run fourth inning to back Whitey Ford to his No. 6 victory and end a six-game Pale Hose victory streak.

It was the season's sixth complete game in six starts for Ford, who gave eight hits.

The pacesetting New Yorkers made the most of 12 hits and weak support which plagued five Sox pitchers.

The loss, charged to starter Jack Harshman, now 1-2, left the third-spot Chisox 2½ games behind the Yanks, who remain here for a Friday night game and a Saturday matinee.

The first run in New York's third straight conquest of the Pale Hose this season came in the second as Yogi Berra led off a three-tally frame with his No. 11 homer of the season.

Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto made three throwing errors, two of them accounting for all three unearned Chicago runs. But the veteran scooter got three singles and drove across two runs.

However, the White Sox were much more tense collectively, both afield and at bat, where they wasted virtually all of their eight hits.

The Sox took a 1-0 lead in the first on Nellie Fox' double, an infield out and Rizzuto's bad throw on Sherm Lollar's grounder.

Un-nerved by Berra's homer starting the Yankee second, Harshman weakened for three passes, one intentional, which filled the bases with two out and produced two runs on Rizzuto's single.

Then came the six-run Yankee fourth which chased Harshman.

A walk to Gil McDougald, Luis Aparicio's error on Elston Howard's roller and Ford's single shoved over the first run of the inning and brought in Joe Dahlke.

Dahlke went to sleep on Rizzuto's bunt, filling the bases, and then walked Billy Martin to force a run home. Mantle scratched a hit over second, scoring the third and fourth runs of the inning.

After Berra's infield out, Bill Skowron singled to center, nudging over runs No. 5 and 6. Dahlke walked Hank Bauer, ninth man to bat in the inning, and Sandy Consuegra came in to finally put out the fire.

The Sox picked up two in the fifth on singles by Ron Jackson and Luis Aparicio and Rizzuto's wild throw on pinch hitter Walt Dropo's scratch hit.

Connie Johnson, who replaced Morrie Martin in the eighth as the fifth Sox pitcher, was nicked for the 10th Yankee run in the ninth. Howard's single, a wild pitch and Martin's double produced the tally.

Pirates Grab Virdon In Swap; Cards Pickup Del Greco, Littlefield

By ROBERT HUNT

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Frank Lane, baseball's trading wizard who's picked up seven new players in a frantic week of dealing, said Thursday, "I'd rather have a nasty bunch of so-and-sos in first place than a good sentimental seventh-place club."

The St. Louis Cardinals general manager, leaning back in his swivel chair, discussed his views on baseball in general after the latest in a series of fast-moving deals that have reshuffled the team's roster.

"I feel the team is a better all-around club now," Lane said, "than when we started the season."

Bill Virdon, 26-year-old outfielder who was last year's National League rookie of the year, was the latest Redbird to go in Lane's manipulations.

Virdon, in a batting slump this season with a .211 average, was sent to the Pittsburgh Pirates for outfielder Bobby Del Greco and southpaw hurler Dick Littlefield.

Lane, who earned his reputation as a trader with the Chicago White Sox, feels the Cards have a "contending ball club" but said "you gotta be realistic" about chances of a pennant.

Brooklyn and Milwaukee still have to be contended with, Lane said, but the 60-year-old dynamo predicted it will be a "great race."

The Cards, since last Friday, have swapped Alex Grammas, the $100,000 shortstop, and pinch hitter Joe Frazier to Cincinnati for utility man Chuck Harmon; bought infielder Grady Hatton from the Boston Red Sox, and sent pitchers Harvey Haddix, Stu Miller and Ben Flowers and utility infielder Solly Hemus to Philadelphia in exchange for pitchers Herm Wehmeier and Murray Dickson and infielder Bobby Morgan.

"We've added to our bench with Morgan, Harmon and Hatton," Lane said, "and to our pitching with Dickson, Littlefield, Wehmeier and Max Surkont."

Since Lane and Manager Fred Hutchinson took over their jobs last October, the club has undergone a nearly 60 per cent change in personnel.

The Cardinals, who finished a dismal seventh place in 1955, now stand at 15 and 9 in a virtual three-way first place tie with the Dodgers and Braves.

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP)—An art form s yet unnamed has been developed by famed Midland architect Alden B. Dow.

It utilizes a translucent plastic screen on which images are projected through colored spotlights accenting backstage props. Three ballet dancers perform behind the screen to musical accompaniment.

Dow says the device permits visual as well as auditory enjoyment of music and integrates dancing with instrumental performance in a way that has never been done before.

Landrith Paces Cubs To 4-1 Win Over Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Catcher Hobie Landrith drove in three runs Thursday night to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 4-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pitcher Russ Meyer of the Cubs gave up only four hits until the ninth when he allowed two singles, but Turk Lown came on to retire the last two Pirates on an outfield fly and an infield out.

The victory ended a four-game losing streak for the last place Cubs. It also snapped a four-game winning streak for the ambitious Pirates.

The only run off Meyer, winning his first game against one defeat, came in the seventh inning when Frank Thomas doubled and came home on Lee Walls' single. In the eighth inning an error and a walk got Meyer in trouble with two out, but he struck out first baseman Dale Long and thereby snapped Long's 9-game hitting streak.

Ronnie Kline hooked in a hurling duel with Meyer until the fifth inning when Jim King doubled, went to third on an infield out and scored on a single by Landrith.

The Cubs sewed up the contest in the sixth inning with three runs.

A single, a walk and hit batsman filled the bases and one run scored on Pete Whisenant's infield single. Luis Arroyo replaced Kline at this point and Landrith greeted him with a sharp single to drive in two more runs.

Outfielder Bill Virdon, obtained Thursday by the Pirates in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals, didn't play. He is suffering from a bruised hip suffered in a slide a few days ago.

Minnesota Nine Aims For Big 10 Championship

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota which last won a Big Ten baseball championship in 1935 aims its .330 batting power at Michigan and Michigan State this weekend in hopes of running a conference victory string to 11.

The pace setting Gophers 8-1 are host to Michigan State 3-2 Friday in a single game and entertain Michigan 3-2 in a Saturday twin bill.

Remainder of the conference weekend schedule:

Friday Single games—second-place Ohio State 6-1 at Illinois 4-5; Northwestern 3-4 at Wisconsin 3-3; Indiana 2-5 at Purdue 2-7; and Michigan at Iowa 2-6.

Saturday all double headers—Northwestern at Wisconsin; Indiana at Illinois; Ohio State at Purdue; and Michigan State at Iowa.

Minnesota's .330 team hitting mark leads the league and the Gophers' third baseman, John McCartan, tops the loop's individual batters with a .577 average.

Official statistics released Thursday also disclose that three of McCartan's five homers came in one game for a new conference record. His total of 14 RBI's leads that department.

Crimsons Advance To Pittsfield District Finals With 15-4 Win

Coach Bob Kraushaar's JHS Crimsons collected 12 base hits and took advantage of 6 walks and 5 errors by the Routt Rockets to win their own Sub-District tournament here yesterday, 15-4.

A strong downwind accounted for the numerous walks that were given up during the six inning tilt, cut short by the 10 run rule. Rex Hazelrigg, JHS starter, and Tom Regan, who went the distance for the Rockets had difficulty with their control throughout the first three innings of play.

The Crimsons held the Rockets scoreless in their first time at bat and after the Jacks had batted in their first, there were seven runs chalked up on the scoreboard as JHS literally exploded to take a commanding lead which was never threatened.

In the JHS first, Nunn singled, Scott walked and Jack Fairfield laid down a bunt that evaded the Rocket fielders to fill the sacks up. Regan worked the count to three balls and two strikes on Bill Lewis but the payoff pitch was wide to give JHS their first tally of the game. David Fortado, JHS's centerfielder, blasted a triple to left field to clear the sacks and the Crimsons were off and running.

Hazelrigg went two and a third innings before being relieved by Bob Hoecker in the third as a result of the Rocket outburst in that inning as they came up with three runs. Hazelrigg walked Sellers and Tom Regan to open the third frame and Jim DeVore, Rocket second baseman, really leaned into one of Hazelrigg's pitches to hit a three run homer and that was all for Hazelrigg. Hoecker took over the mound duties and allowed coach Larry Zitkus' nine only one run in three innings of relief.

Jacksonville waited until the bottom of the sixth inning to start the fireworks once again as they dented the old plate seven more times to end the game with a lead of 11 tallies.

David Fortado, who had five RBI's for the day, collected two of these in the sixth as he doubled with two mates aboard. Jack Fairfield's double accounted for JHS's 14th and 15th runs in the last inning.

The hitting honors of the game went to Jack Fairfield of JHS and Jim DeVore of the Rockets. Both players banged out three hits apiece to pace their respective teams in the hitting department.

Khoury League Games To Start Monday, May 21

CARROLLTON — The Khoury League baseball games will open May 21 in Jerseyville according to plans which have been made and toward which the League members are preparing by practicing each evening after school. Carrollton, White Hall, Roodhouse and Jerseyville teams will compete against one another this year.

Carrolton has five Khoury League teams this year. The 7 to 9 age group of which Joe Alfeld is manager will play in a vacant lot at the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Vogt. The lot has been skinned and prepared for use as a baseball diamond by the employees of the Carrollton Township Highway.

The 9 to 11 age group managed by Arthur Schnelten and the 11 to 13 age managed by Hollyn Jackson will play at Wright Memorial Park. The 13 to 15 age group managed by Harold Cunningham will play at Fry Park as will the 15 to 17 age group which is at present without a manager.

Hayes Jenkins, World's Skating Champ Turns Pro

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Hayes Alan Jenkins, world and Olympic figure skating champion, turned professional Thursday to star with the internationally touring Holiday on Ice.

The 23-year-old Colorado College student, supreme figure in men's figure skating for the last four years, declined to spell out terms of the contract he signed Thursday. But a Holiday on Ice spokesman said Jenkins would get in the neighborhood of $1,500 weekly for summer appearances this year and in 1957.

The slender ice king told a news conference the contract was "basically for one year," but with an option arrangement which probably will extend his appearance in the show to at least three years.

Jenkins thus will earn an estimated $18,000 for 12 weeks of performance.

Blueboys Take 12-4 Win Over Principia

ELSAH, Ill. —(Special)— The visiting Illinois College Blueboys rolled to their eighth win of the season here yesterday as they drubbed Principia College, 12-4, in a PCC Conference tilt.

Principia outhit the Blueboys 14-10 but couldn't capitalize with hits at the right time with men on base to ever be a threat to the I.C. nine.

Starter Gene Farmer allowed the hosts 11 base knocks in seven innings of work but was effective with men on base to give up only three earned runs. Bob McEvers took over for Farmer in the beginning of the eighth frame and pitched creditable ball for two innings as he allowed Principia three hits and only one earned run.

Ezard and Farmer paced the I.C. hitting attack with two base hits apiece. Farmer clouted a circuit blast in the seventh frame for the only home run of the game. Merris and Manuelian tripled for the other extra-base blows I. C. punched off of Anderson, Principia's starter, who went the distance.

OATS, RYE FIRM ON DULL MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP) — In a slow and rather dull market, oats and rye displayed an independently firm tone on the Board of Trade Thursday.

Buying in these two cereals was associated with start of debate in the Senate on the new farm bill. The bill as passed by the House would boost price supports this year for oats and rye.

Old crop soybeans also had a firm tone but the new crop months eased. May wheat weakened while the deferred contracts showed little price change. Corn moved up slightly.

Wheat closed 1 cent lower to 1⅛ higher, corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, oats ⅝-1¼ higher, rye ¾-1½ higher, soybeans ½ lower to 2½ higher and lard 7 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower.

May wheat ran up several cents at one time on export business with Greece. That country bought 1,100,000 bushels overnight and added 675,000 bushels during the day. But liquidation wiped away the gains. Trading in all May futures ends Monday.

Soybean oil eased in the cash market but soybean meal advanced. Old crop soybeans pegged their action more on the meal than the oil. But buying was not aggressive. New crop soybeans sagged again on prospects of a large soybean acreage.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds moved up 4-32 to 6-32 in fairly active trading in the over-the-counter market Thursday.

On the Big Board, corporates were generally lower. Rails and industrials declined while quality investment issues and utilities were steady. Volume increased to $4,090,000 par value from $3,304,000 Wednesday.

In new financing, Northern Illinois Gas Co. awarded its 15 million dollars of 25-year first mortgage bonds to a group led by Halsey Stuart & Co. on a bid of 100.1199 for a 3¾ per cent coupon. They were reoffered at 100.81 to yield 3.70 per cent.

New York Stock Market

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced Thursday in one of the most undistinguished sessions of the past three months.

The market was narrow, quiet, and showed only moderate gains in key areas running to between $1 and $2 at the outside. Losses also were small.

The start found prices higher, and that trend continued to the close. Late in the afternoon it looked as though some trading excitement might develop, but after a brief show of speed the market simmered down to its old pace.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.10. That compares with a net loss of $3.50 in the average in the first three days of this week. The industrial component Thursday was up $1.90, railroads were ahead 80 cents, and utilities were up 20 cents.

Volume at 1,970,000 was the smallest since Feb. 16. It compares with 2,060,000 shares Wednesday when the market was mixed.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on volume of 870,000 shares as compared with 860,000 shares Wednesday.

Arrest, Charge Three With Theft Of U.S. Document

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The FBI Thursday arrested three businessmen and an Air Force sergeant in connection with the theft of a classified government document from the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

Three of them were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Theodore C. Kiscaras at Rutherford and released in bail..

The sergeant, Harold E. Brill, 23, who is married and the father of one child, was released in $500. He is stationed at the passenger movement division of the Brooklyn terminal. He is an eight-year Air Force veteran.

Released in bail of $5,000 each were Sidney M. Stern, 39, and Seymour S. Hindman 39, owners of the Distinctive Emblem & Uniform Corp., East Orange.

A fourth man, Bryant Ernest Schreiber, 43, owner of Schreiber's Snapshot Service, Linden, was arrested by the FBI at his home at Millburn, on a conspiracy charge.

He will be arraigned Friday.

The FBI said the document had been recovered but declined to give any details.

Brill was picked up at the Manhattan Air Force Base, Brooklyn, at their offices.

Brill is charged with the theft while the other two were arrested the other three of conspiring with of the government document and him.

In setting the low bail for Brill, Commissioner Kiscaras said:

"I know you cooperated with the agents."

12 Nursing Homes In Chicago Called 'Firetraps'

CHICAGO (AP) — State's Atty. John Gutknecht today called 12 Chicago nursing and convalescent homes "firetraps" and ordered prosecution of their operators in Municipal Court.

He did not identify the operators pending issuance of warrants.

Fire inspectors reported that in some homes patients were locked in and that doors leading to fire escapes were bolted. In another 60 persons were sleeping on three floors and would have to use one exit in a fire. The door was kept tightly locked.

Gutknecht made his announcement while a grand jury was investigating the conduct of nursing and convalescent homes. Inspectors previously reported that in some homes patients were doped to keep them under control.

ANNOUNCE CHESTERFIELD CIGARETTE PRICE INCREASE

NEW YORK (AP)—Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. announced Thursday a 45-cent increase in the wholesale price of regular and kingsize Chesterfield cigarettes in lots of 1,000 each.

The increase figures out to nine cents a carton, roughly equal to a penny a pack.

The new price will be $8.55 and $9.00 per 1,000 for regular and kingsize Chesterfields, respectively, less the standard cash discount of 2 per cent, effective Friday.

The company said the boost was necessary to meet higher manufacturing and distribution costs.

Other major cigarette companies were apparently surprised by the boost. None had any comment.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

No real assessment of Britain's unilateral decision to expand her trade with Red China can be made until it is clear what type of shipments she intends to make and what benefits she gets in return.

A fairly good guess is that the British government, although under great pressure from business interests, has no intention of going far enough to stir up a hornet's nest in the United States.

Britain has been pressing for months for relaxation of the American embargo list. Anthony Eden was promised a review when he visited Washington in February. It has been slow.

Now London plans to take advantage of an agreement of the China Committee, composed of NATO nations plus Japan, which permits a country to take exception to the embargo list provided the committee is notified.

The United States maintains a complete embargo on trade with Red China. In addition, she has maintained a list of materials which may not be shipped by nations which accept mutual aid funds from her.

Several nations have been trying to get this list whittled down at least to the point where restrictions will be no greater than against Russia and her European satellites.

Because of the Battle Act, which authorizes the President to withdraw aid from any violator, most of the countries cannot act unilaterally. Britain, no longer an aid recipient, is not subject to that restraint.

Britain's relations with the United States, however, go far beyond technical agreements and alliances. It is a free, working, affiliation, and more important to both than any of the individual issues about which the two countries sometimes disagree.

The Russians will take Britain's move as a success for their freer trade drive, advertise it as a failure of American policy, and try to represent it as a wedge between Washington and London.

Forecast $1.8 Billion Surplus In Budget

$600 to $700.

Leading Democrats, however, refused to close the door irrevocably on a tax cut.

But these Democrats conditioned it to a downturn in business activitiy, which would require tax reductions as a stimulus to the economy, or to a reduction in expenditures, which they regarded as unlikely.

The administration figures showed that net budget receipts are running about $3,200,000,000 higher than was expected last January. But at the same time government spending was up $1,602,000,000 over January estimates.

Humphrey and Brundage said their revised estimates of income and outgo are based on budget results through last April 30 with estimates for the last months.

Only 85 New Polio Cases; 205 Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) Only 85 new cases of polio were reported last week, compared with 205 in the corresponding week last year.

A Public Health Service spokesman, disclosing this today, said "the present reports look very favorable but it is still too early to say what impends for the remainder of the year."

The 85 cases during the week ended May 12 compared with 101 in the similar week of 1952, which became the record year for polio. In each of the two preceding weeks this year the number of cases had been identical with those in the corresponding 1952 weeks.

The health service said there was no way of telling now whether the use of Salk vaccine was being reflected in this year's low figures, because that cannot be determined solely from the number of cases reported.

WILL TRY CLOUD SEEDING IN EFFORT TO PREVENT LIGHTNING

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Forest Service said Thursday it will conduct experiments in seeding clouds as a means of preventing or reducing the severity of lightning during storms.

Lightning is a major cause of fires in Western forests.

The experiment will be carried out on the Coconino National Forest in northern Arizona.

Cloud seeding will be limited to occasions when isolated lightning storm develops that are suitable for this type of study.

The service said silver iodide will be used as the seeding agent either from a ground generator or from an airplane. It said the tiny silver crystals when emitted by specially designed generators act as nuclei for the formation of ice crystals in the clouds.

"This reaction under some conditions may affect the life history of the cloud which in turn could alter the lightning potential of the storm," the service said.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Postmaster H. Wayne Parker Thursday found a letter on his desk, addressed:

"Mommy, Care of God, Heaven."

It read:

"Dear Mommy, I miss you very much since you went to live with God. I hope you're happy. I'm lonesome without you and Daddy since you have gone away.

"Please tell God to help me be good so I can come to Heaven by you. Love, Your Baby Girl, Mickey."

Committee Rejects Ike's Long-Term Foreign Aid Plan

Richards said he expects the committee to finish with the measure Friday.

Further trouble for the bill was forecast as the group neared a decision on the three billion dollars Eisenhower has proposed for military assistance in the fiscal year starting July 1. The amount is three times that which congress voted for arms aid this year.

The President has asked for authority to commit up to 100 million dollars a year for 10 years for specific long-term aid projects such as dams, road systems and harbor developments.

The committee rejected this, agreeing instead on a policy statement offered by Richards. This statement says:

"The Congress of the United States, recognizing that the peace of the world and the security of the United States is endangered as long as international communism and the nations it controls continue . . . to attempt to bring under their domination peoples now free and independent . . . declares it to be the policy of the United States . . . to continue . . . to make available to free nations and peoples upon request assistance of such nature and in such amounts as the United States is able to provide compatible with its own stability, strength and other obligations. . ."

Eisenhower has said the long-term authority was needed to assure foreign nations of continued U. S. assistance on specific projects. But many congressmen have object to committing taxpayers' dollars for a long period in the face of swiftly changing world conditions.

Police Battle 'Panty Raiders' At California U.

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Wholesale water fights among University of California men students developed Wednesday night into uncontrolled "panty raids" on sorority houses, during which some girls were stripped of their nightclothes.

All available Berkeley and campus police battled until 2 a.m. Wednesday to bring the estimated 2,000 rioters under control.

Twenty-two sorority and girls' boarding houses were broken into. Barricades in the houses were smashed down and the door of one sorority wrenched off its hinges.

Vandalism caused an estimated loss of $10,000. When the raiders were cleared away, the streets were littered with feminine under garments.

University authorities acted to identify the individuals responsible and to prevent a recurrence. Punishment could range from censure to dismissal from school, dean of students Hurfurd Stone said.

The Daily Californian, school newspaper, called it a "night of debauchery" and demanded severe disciplinary and financial reprisals against all fraternities.

Police Capt. L. H. Laird insisted "no one was assaulted in any manner."

He said some girls were pulled out of bed and their nightclothes stripped off.

THREE-YEAR-OLD BOY SHOOTS, WOUNDS POLICEMAN FATHER

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—A 3-year-old boy Thursday shot and wounded his policeman father with the father's 38 caliber service pistol.

Police were puzzled for an explanation of how little Johnny Thomas was able to fire the double-action revolver.

The father, Jan Thomas, 31, said he came off night duty and had placed his revolver on a dresser in a bedroom. While searching for a key to a chest where he places the weapon for safekeeping, he heard a shot and whirled around, thinking the boy must have shot himself.

It wasn't until after he assured himself the boy was not hurt, Thomas said, that he realized he had been shot in the groin. He also was at a loss to explain how his son could pull the trigger.

In Galesburg Cottage Hospital attendants reported Thomas' condition as good.

NAVY PLANS NEW GUIDED MISSILE RANGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said Thursday it is considering establishment of a new guided missile range extending thousands of miles from California out into the Pacific Ocean.

The range would match one now operated by the Air Force for all the services. It extends from Cape Canaveral, Fla., 2,000 miles through the Caribbean, and ultimately will extend beyond Ascension Island, permitting missile flights of more than 5,000 miles out over the South Atlantic.

A spokesman said the Navy purchasing office at Los Angeles is about to award a study contract, to determine whether a range southwest from Southern California would be practical.

Saturday To Be "Poppy Day" In Jacksonville

Disabled veterans of three wars, working in their beds and wheel chairs and in the occupational therapy department at the Jacksonville State Hospital, have made the memorial poppies which will be worn here on Poppy Day next Saturday in honor of their fallen comrades, Mrs. Helen Winner, poppy chairman of Jacksonville Unit 279 of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced.

The poppies have been received by the Auxiliary unit from the hospital where poppy making has been an important activity all through the winter and spring months. The work has been sponsored by the Illinois Department of the Auxiliary, which has supplied the materials and paid the veterans for the completed poppies.

Besides enabling hospitalized veterans to earn much needed money for themselves and families, poppy making helps speed the long hospital hours and is considered valuable as occupational therapy, Mrs. Winner explained.

The work has been conducted this year in veteran's hospitals throughout the country and in convalescent work rooms operated by the Auxiliary. Taking part have been disabled veterans of the two world wars and of the Korean conflict, more than ten thousand having been given employment in the program.

The poppies will be distributed here on Poppy Day by volunteers from the American Legion Auxiliary and cooperating groups. Contributions received will help support the Auxiliary's endeavors for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans during the coming year.

PREPARE FOR OPEN HOUSE AT OAKLAWN

Mrs. Verne Anderson, left, executive secretary for the Morgan County Tuberculosis Association and Mrs. Paul Joaquin, R. N. at the Oaklawn Sanatorium, making preliminary preparation for the public Open House on Sunday, May 20. Everyone is cordially invited to visit the Sanatorium between the hours of two to four in the afternoon daylight time. Dr. Morris Greenberg, medical director and staff will show visitors the building and inspect the new physical therapy room made useful and more comfortable in recent months.

For County Residents

Oaklawn has twenty-three regular employees, also four registered nurses and one graduate nurse on their staff. The capacity is 40 beds. They now have 32 patients. They have about twenty-five out patients who come out twice each week for shots and X-ray. This service is obtainable for all residents of Morgan County free of charge. Dr. Greenberg is available every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 1 until 2 for chest X-ray to anyone who desires the service.

The new occupational therapy department at Oaklawn was inaugurated April 1 for patients. This room is a 40 by 60 foot room housing two looms, kiln, a sewing machine, a jig saw, work tables and several cabinets for materials. Patients have shown considerable interest in such crafts as weaving, leather and wood work, pottery, sewing and others. They are given a free rein, within the doctor's prescription, in selecting their own work projects.

The current occupational therapy program at Oaklawn grew from an earlier "pilot" project organized in 1953 and financed by six tuberculosis associations in nearby counties, including Morgan, Greene, Cass, Brown, Pike and Schuyler. Only bedside crafts were possible because of a lack of space for equipment and class sessions. At that time the program was headed by Mrs. Mabel Carruthers, who served as therapist for nine months. Classes terminated when she became ill last year and were not resumed until the room was completed several months ago.

Dr. Morris Greenberg, medical director, describes the room as "completely new." Up until construction work began, the room was a place to store vegetables. The board provided funds for construction expenses and the county T B and Public Health League helped finance the equipment and materials. Board members are Dr. Warner H. Newcomb, president; John B. Wright, vice president, and Arthur J. French, secretary, all of Jacksonville.

Donate TV Set

When O. T. classes are not in session the attractive, well-lighted room accommodates television as well as Sunday morning church services. A new TV set for the room was purchased with donations solicited by a local policeman, Cloyd Wilson, who also arranged for its installation before the opening of the current baseball season.

Mrs. Carmen Richey of Jacksonville is the new part - time therapist and it is with her help the patients learn new crafts and also work with hobbies they are interested in.

It is hoped many will avail themselves of this fine opportunity to visit Oaklawn during Open House Sunday. Rev. M. M. Blair, president of the Morgan County Tuberculosis Association, and the committee composed of Mrs. Roach, Miss Helen Sweeney, Verne Anderson, Mrs. Amy Miss Miriam Russel and Mrs. Paul Joaquin extend an invitation to all to see the improvements made possible through the sale of Christmas Seals. Refreshments will be served.

Member's First Talk Wins Award At Toastmasters'

His first speech in the basic training course, an autobiographical sketch, Wednesday night won Giles Farmer best speaker honors at the regular meeting of the Jacksonville Toastmasters' Club.

Elsewhere on the evening's program:

Table topic chairman Lynden Heaton called for impromptu speeches from Giles Farmer, Melvin Akers, Dr. J. Allen Biggs, and Rex Fouts.

Toastmaster of the evening Oliver McIlrath introduced Dr. J. Allen Biggs as the first regular speaker. In a talk titled "Let's Think," Biggs said that God has done much for each individual, and that it is each individual's obligation to repay this debt.

In a speech called "The Art of Understanding," Rex Fouts said America would be a stronger nation if more voters understood more completely the problems which the country faces.

John Pruitt's address, "Family On Wheels," contrasted 1931 and 1956 in respect to the changes made in family life by the automobile.

All Toastmasters' Club meetings after June 1 will be held Tuesday nights at 6:30 p.m. in the Southern Aire Cafe.

Deed Recorded Here Shows Sale Of Nesco

A deed has gone on record at the office of Circuit Clerk and Recorder Philip Bradish which may spell the official end of what for nearly 15 years was Jacksonville's largest industry—the National Enameling & Stamping Co. later known as Nesco.

The deed transfers part of lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 in block 11 in Lurton & Kedzie's addition to Jacksonville, from the New York Shipbuilding Corp., to Irving Fox, 61 Broadway, New York City.

Announcement of the sale of the Jacksonville plant, formerly engaged in manufacture of electric roasters and other appliances, was made several weeks ago. The announcement at that time said the plant was sold to a liquidating company. Since first announcement of the transaction advertisements have appeared in the Wall Street Journal for sale of equipment.

Revenue stamps attached to the deed indicated that the selling price of the plant was in excess of $440,000.

A mortgage for $1,053,000 was also filed in the Morgan county clerk's office, showing that Fox is indebted to the New York Shipbuilding Corp. for that amount, and mortgaging the Nesco property at the end of East Superior avenue.

The factories of Nesco in Jacksonville and Granite City, Ill., have been idle since March 1, despite efforts of business and civic interests in both communities to steer the properties into ownership which would continue industrial activities.

Hagen Circus To Arrive Sunday; 2 Shows Monday

The aerialists, acrobats, clowns and other featured performers of the sawdust rings will arrive in Jacksonville early Sunday morning to get ready for the two shows to be given by the Hagen Bros. 3-ring Circus Monday, May 21 at the Hempel show grounds on East Walnut street. Performances will be at 3 and 8 p.m.

Among the featured stars of this truck circus are the Reynoses, a sensationally daring troupe of "iron jaw" performers; the Caudillo Sisters, acrobats supreme; the Hanel Troupe, Internationally famous bar casting performers direct from Sweden; Miss Nixon performing her aerial feats high above the arena; Dixie, billed as the world's largest performing elephant; also the aerial ballet of spangled beauties, and Allen's trained bears.

THE WAYNES
Bareback Riders

Also on hand to entertain patrons young and old will be the Navarro Brothers; a fast and funny bunch of clowns headed by Lee Virtue; performing Shetland ponies and the Hagen Bros. Black & White Liberty Horses.

All of this, of course, is in addition to the lesser but necessary excitement a circus always carries with it — the color, the crowds, the garish posters, the purposefully - scurrying rousters, the cotton candy and pink lemonade, all blending into the intangible spell of the big top.

The management invites the public to come to the Circus grounds to watch one of the circus' finest shows FREE. That is the swift transformation of a bare plot of ground in the space of a few hours into the intricately equipped nerve center for the big show.

The circus is being sponsored here by American Legion with Ed Witham as Circus chairman

Variety Of Beef Will Be Star Of Weekend Specials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef in a wide variety of cuts will be the principal meat featured in special sales by butcher shops and food stores throughout the country this weekend.

Rising wholesale prices have squeezed pork and lamb out of the bargain category in most sections this week and will probably have an even more widespread effect by next week.

In New York retailers reported wholesale prices for lamb went up two to four cents on top of steady increases over the past month or so.

Pork was quoted six to seven cents a pound higher for cuts that will go on sale to the public next week. In Chicago hogs sold 45 per cent above the lows of last winter.

Beef prices were also slightly higher. Economy cuts, such as chuck roasts, were specially priced at 33 cents a pound in some New York area stores where they brought 29 cents a pound several weeks ago.

Compared to a year ago, however, beef prices are still low.

Spring vegetable favorites in more limited quantity but still at reasonable prices are rhubarb and green onions. Asparagus is also reaching markets from nearby farms.

Good buys among vegetables also include onions from Texas, corn, celery, carrots, cabbage, peppers and sweet potatoes.

Home Bureau Activities

The Berea unit of Home Bureau met recently at the home of Mrs. William Becker with Mrs. Robert Foster as the assistant hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Robert Foster with the pledge to the flag and the group singing of "A Perfect Day." Roll call was answered with each naming her favorite flower.

Mrs. Robert Foster presented the local leader lesson, Floor Finishes, which was very educational. She offered samples of many kinds of flooring for inspection, in addition to different floor finishings.

The selected subject, Oven Meals, was presented by Mrs. Lloyd Smith. An oven dish was prepared and each lady sampled the food.

Mrs. Merle Kern was in charge of recreation which was won by Mrs. Phyllis Fuchs and Mrs. Richard Johnson.

The meeting adjourned and the hostess served delicious refreshments. Guests present were Mrs. Darrell Smith and Danny, Mrs. Joe Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Robert Hines.

Very Few Psychiatrists Feel Publicity On Cancer Harmful

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—Does publicity about cancer and its danger signals cause harm, making people afraid to act?

Relatively few psychiatrists think so, and more than half believe the publicity does good, a new survey by the American Cancer Society finds.

Seven years ago, 11 per cent of psychiatrists disapproved the ACS' educational program on grounds it inspired fears, and froze people from action, said the report by Dr. Daniel Horn, assistant director of the statistical research section.

Now only 6 per cent definitely disapprove, the survey finds. Some 350 psychiatrists were asked the same questions asked of psychiatrists and neurologists in 1949.

Main objectives in the cancer publicity have been to stress the importance of early diagnosis, when cancer is often curable, and the danger signals that may indicate cancer, Dr. Horn said. About seven years ago, the cancer society deliberately began "to deemphasize the more fear-provoking aspects of cancer, and to emphasize a 'note of hope' in its educational literature."

In the previous survey, about 35 per cent of psychiatrists said they thought cancer publicity brought "increased anxiety," but only 25 per cent feel that way now, Dr. Horn reports.

Fear of a real threat is desirable, if it leads to constructive action, he points out. Few psychiatrists today think the increased anxiety is doing more harm than good.

Fifty-one per cent said it does no harm, and implied positive approval, as against 43 per cent in 1949. Five per cent (against 8 per cent earlier) said they thought it does some harm, but didn't express opinion whether the harm outweighed the good.

Fourteen per cent (against 16 per cent earlier) thought it does some harm, but that the good effects outweigh the harm. Others had no opinions.

Tolstoy's 'War And Peace' Finally Made Into Movie

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Well, they've finally made a movie out of "War and Peace."

Just about one year ago the famous novel, after gathering dust for 90 years, became the simultaneous target of an international film free-for-all.

Four different production organizations announced in rapid succession they were ready to start shooting Count Leo Tolstoy's epic pageant of the Napoleonic Wars.

One showman, Mike Todd, shot out ahead in the scramble by getting a pledge from Tito that the entire Yugoslav army would pitch in on the battle scenes.

Three of the rivals, including Todd, then got involved in other cinematic matters.

But the fourth — who happened to be the last to announce plans—stuck with "War and Peace" and a 3½-hour version filmed by Italian producer Dino DeLaurentis will be unveiled in New York, Rome and way stations this summer.

Arthur Mayer, veteran American movie man who has taken over most of the worldwide distribution chore, is being remarkably restrained with the adjectives —so far.

Mayer in conversation refers to just one other film in comparison —"Gone With the Wind"—which happens to be the all-time top moneymaker. Matter of fact, he adds legend has it that "War and Peace" helped inspire Margaret Mitchell when she sat down to write "Gone With the Wind."

Starring in the DeLaurentis spectacular are Henry Fonda, Mel Ferrer and Audrey Hepburn, the last making her debut in a color movie. ("She got $350,000 for making the picture and was worth every penny of it," says Mayer.)

Abetting the top trio are such distinguished shapes as Anita Ekberg, such talents as Oscar Homolka, Barry Jones, Helmut Dantine — and backing them all up are 6,000 members of the Italian army.

Dinner At Hotel Ends Club Season

ARENZVILLE—The final meeting for the season of the Arenzville Woman's club was held at the Dunlap hotel in Jacksonville. Combining the spring floral decorations with favors and a delightful program the large attendance enjoyed a delicious dinner. Mrs. J. J. Newton offered the invocation.

Following the dinner Mrs. Arthur Kleinschmidt presided at the business meeting, which opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The club collect was repeated in unison. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. George Morrison.

Reports were heard from the chairman of all committees, covering their work for the year. The treasurer, Miss Marguerite Campbell had prepared printed copies of the treasurer's report for the year, and a copy was given to each member. Mrs. William Jones, health chairman reported $190.70 had been collected during the Cancer Drive.

Mrs. Kleinschmidt announced her committees for 1956-1957, and presented the new officers, Mrs. Harold Kruse, first vice president; Mrs. J. A. Shannon, second vice president; Mrs. Frances Hobrock, treasurer; and Mrs. William Jones, secretary.

Roll call was answered by 32 members telling of a "Trip I Would Like to Take." Those receiving a red rose for perfect attendance were Miss Marguerite Campbell, Mrs. Aldo Hierman, Mrs. Frank Hierman, Mrs. M. L. Hierman, Mrs. Arthur Kleinschmidt, Mrs. Albert Kolberer, Mrs. J. E. Peck, Mrs. Willard Peck, Mrs. Charles Schnitker, Mrs. J. A. Shannon, Mrs. Carl Thornley and Mrs. John Schroeder.

The program was in charge of Mrs. J. E. Peck. Mrs. J. J. Newton read two poems for Mother's Day entitled, "Mother" and "Memories." Mrs. Willard Peck sang two lovely solos, "One Alone" and "Sunshine of Your Smile," accompanied by Mrs. M. G. West.

Mrs. Peck then introduced Miss Hamshad Rahim as the speaker of the evening. Miss Rahim is a native of India and is attending MacMurray College doing graduate work under the sponsorship of the Institute of International Education. Miss Rahim spoke about the religion and education of the people of India, and also about women of India.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Viola Beard, Mrs. Fred Tholen, Mrs. John Beard, Mrs. Howard Deitrick, Mrs. Andrew Wheeler, Mrs. Francis Staake and Mrs. Wilbur Zulauf.

Breakfast Honors Mothers

An eight o'clock breakfast, served at the Towne-House Cafe, honored the mothers of members of Eli Chapter, Order of DeMolay for boys, Sunday morning.

The mothers were welcomed by Master Councilor Terry Fry, and response was made by his mother, Mrs. Paul Fry of White Hall. Mrs. Fry was presented with flowers by her son, and he received a boutonniere from his mother.

The Rev. Ruth Nicklin of White Hall gave the devotions and the speaker for the meeting was Boon Than Mahavan of Thailand, a student at Illinois College in Jacksonville, who also showed articles of interest from his native land.

Among those seated at the speaker's table was Grover Shipton, chairman of the advisory board. In charge of arrangements for Mothers' Day were Dick Lawson, Terry Airsman, Marvin Brant, J. W. Howard and Lyndell Rochester.

Former Virginia Resident Earns Danforth Grant

VIRGINIA — Relatives have received word that Charles Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Medford, Oregon, former residents of Virginia and Cass county, is one of two Willamette University Oregon students to receive Danforth graduate fellowships.

Fifty of these scholarships are awarded throughout the United States annually. Amounts of the scholarships are between $2400 and $2800 each for four years plus one year at seminar if desired.

Anderson is a senior philosophy major. He will use his fellowship at Union Theological Seminary in New York City in preparation for the ministry in the Methodist Church. On the Willamette campus he has been a member of the Inferfaith Council, manager of Christian Resource Week and president of Oxford Fellowship. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma scholastic honorary fraternity, a senior in the religion department and held a Collins scholarship for two years.

In addition to being a full-time student, he is a student minister at the Methodist church in Marquam, Oregon.

He was born in Virginia, where he attended primary school and later rural schools in Cass county before moving with his parents to Medford, Ore. He is married and has two children, Charles Jr. and Diane, and the family is planning a visit with relatives and friends in this city and county en route to New York in August.

Oldest, Youngest Mothers Honored

ROODHOUSE—At the morning service held at the First Baptist church on Mother's Day, a potted plant was awarded to Mrs. J. H. Little, 82, the oldest mother present, and another to the youngest mother in the congregation, Mrs. Dale Pauley.

Furnishing special music for the service were Misses Elsie Mae and Ardita Ballard of Springfield, who sang a duet dedicated to mothers.

The pastor, the Rev. H. L. Janvrin, used as his text, "Mother of Jesus."

It was announced that special recognition will be given those adults who completed the teachers' training course, and certificates will be awarded during the next Sunday morning church hour.

Entertain Chapter

Mesdames Ruby Houseman and Ethelyn Cuddy were hostesses Tuesday night, May 15, to Chapter BU of the P.E.O. Sisterhood at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Houseman's sister, Mrs. W. L. Gardiner of White Hall.

Mrs. Ella Scott discussed "Spiritual Understanding," and the year's history of the chapter was given by Mrs. Mae Walker.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to conclude the evening.

BODY by FISHER

The meaningful emblem of Body by Fisher

When you see "sterling" on silver you know what it means—solid silver, all the way through.

And when you see the medallion "Body by Fisher" on an automobile it means much the same thing—quality all the way through, in things unseen as well as on the visible, gleaming surface.

The significance of this emblem cannot be tested on the showroom floor. Its meaning was not built up in a day but only after long years in which owners learned that "Body by Fisher" was a veritable symbol of solid, enduring satisfaction.

Only one who has owned a Chevrolet for several years can fully know the deep sense of satisfaction this emblem pledges. It is the maker's warranty of an inner soundness that your eye or your touch cannot test. And only Chevrolet in the low-price field is entitled to wear the small, proud plaque that proclaims "Body by Fisher."

Sportsmen See Special Film At Meredosia

MEREDOSIA— The Meredosia Sportsmen's Club had its regular meeting, with twenty-five members and two guests present.

W. G. Steinberg reported that eight teams were ready to begin play in the summer softball league, with a tentative starting date of May 22. Members voted to follow the custom of the past several years and pay a bus driver for taking children to Jacksonville to attend the Red Cross swimming classes.

After the business meeting a one hour movie was shown, "A Conversation with Herbert Hoover," an NBC special events film, with Ray Henly interviewing Herbert Hoover in the Hoover Library of War, Revolution and Peace.

This library is perhaps the only complete history of the world during the past half century as the similar libraries in foreign countries were either destroyed or badly damaged durign World Wars I and II. The Hoover Library of War, Revolution and Peace is located in Leland Stanford University.

Lunch of pie, ice cream, coffee and soda pop was served by Marvin Schlieker, Walter Clark and R. O. Duvendack.

The next meeting will be May 24 with Charles Kaltschnee, Paul Sieving Jr. and Chel Young on the refreshment committee.

Porch and Window Boxes Beautify Modern Homes

There is no denying it, a modern functional type house is rather a "plain Jane" to look at from the street, compared with the attractively symmetrical and ornamental facade of traditional design.

It may never have the dignity of a pillared southern mansion, but its informal air and spreading lines can be made home-like and inviting by growing flowers in window boxes and plantups such as the architects often provide.

If your architect forgot this detail, it is a simple do-it-yourself job to make them and fill them with floral color during the summer, and evergreen boughs in winter.

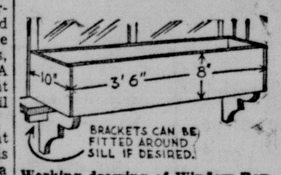

For a standard single window, a box 3½ feet long, 8 inches deep and 10 inches wide is a good size. But measure your windows and make boxes to fit. Even longer porch planters need not be deeper or wider for good results.

Think of the box as a decoration of the house; make it of a suitable size and a color to match the house color or trim.

Rich soil, of the type which florists call potting soil, must be used for window boxes. Because there is so little of it to feed the flowers, it should be well fertilized. A tablespoonful of balanced plant food for each square foot of soil should be used.

For most annual flowers, at least six hours of sun a day is necessary and this requires a south exposure. The best subjects are those of dwarf or trailing habit, the latter drooping festoons of bloom from the boxes. Petunias of the balcony type are excellent, as are the tall nasturtiums, the giant morning glories. Dwarf petunias, marigolds, ageratum, calliopsis, annual pinks, lobella, dwarf morning glories, phlox, and zinnias can be grown.

A window box should decorate the house.

Working drawing of Window Box

Boxes which spend most of the day in shade offer a special problem. If the shade is that of a building, perhaps only foliage plants can be grown, such as ferns, fancy leaved caladiums, crotons, rubber plants and other florists' subjects.

EASTERN BEAUTY—Another entry in the "Marilyn Monroe derby" is Chinese film star Lin Chi. The actress is in Singapore making personal appearances with her new movie.

When Is A Lady Not A Lady?

She's 'At Home'—In Disrepair

Even a big gal such as this one looks like a knockout when she's dressed for a party. But she falls into disrepair (left) when's she's doing housework. Her morale is low and the work takes longer. Most women find their looks and comfort improve when they wear foundation garments for housework. This gal picks a strap brassiere and a pantie girdle (center). A cotton housedress (right) looks better than bluejeans, is easier to keep clean and fresh-looking.

BY ALICIA HART,
NEA Beauty Editor

Husbands who return to the office, after a day's illness, with glazed looks on their faces, have just seen their wives in housework condition for the first time.

What have these stunned creatures seen?

Heads bristling with pincurls.

Stylish make-up consisting of breakfast jelly on the mouth and a chic annointment of soapsuds in the ear.

Haute coutoure consisting of baggy blue jeans and dirty shirt worn over the skin or, at best, a pair of panties held together at the waist with a broken diaper pin.

All wives don't look like this, to be sure. But there are mighty few women with children and a home to care for who aren't guilty of looking this way now and then. And a sick husband generally provides the last straw that causes pride in one's appearance to give way to expediency.

With a properly equipped wardrobe, it takes little effort to look presentable while managing a home, children and said cranky husband.

Cotton dresses that wrap around are easy to iron and have few annoying frills. Most of them have the same big pockets that make blue jeans so popular for housework. Three or four that can be rotated through laundry, ironing and wearing can enable a woman to look fresh and un-orange-juicy each day.

If one puts one's hair up during the day, a frilly nylon cap or a neatly-tied handkerchief should cover the porcupine quills of the pins and curlers.

Foundation garments are most important. Bra and girdle worn for hard work shouldn't be ones that have "sprung" and won't do for dress wear. They should be new and supportive, and should exercise good control. A pantie girdle is a good choice, since it allows freedom of movement, but gives the comfortable support a gal who reaches and lifts wants. A strap brassiere with good support is vital.

Work does go faster and seems more pleasant if one looks and feels like a member of the human race rather than a witch.

NEWCOMERS TO THE SHELL GAME—These seven baby "painted turtles," so called because their undersides are brightly colored, were born recently at the Chicago Zoo's reptile house. AFL-CIO Faces Major Crisis Less Than Five Months After Merger

By, NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)— Less than five months after its founding the merged AFL-CIO is faced with a major crisis.

Leaders of the newly formed 15-million-member labor federation have been called to a special meeting here Tuesday to consider suspending their largest union, the 1,400,000-member teamsters.

The specific complaint is continued teamsters' insistence on alliances with the International Longshoremen's Assn., East Coast dock workers group expelled from the old AFL for alleged gangster influences.

But the teamsters have come to be regarded by other unions as the "bad boy" of the labor movement. They have been cool about the whole AFL-CIO merger idea. They have refused to enter pacts to curb unions raiding each other's membership.

Moreover, the huge teamsters organization itself has been frequently charged with being too chummy with racketeers. A federal grand jury is presently investigating teamsters organizations in New York City where authorities have complained that hoodlums are infiltrating the trucking industry through the union.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, seems determined to have a showdown on teamsters' compliance with the new AFL-CIO's ethical practices code. One provision specifies suspension for any AFL-CIO union giving recognition to an expelled union, such as the ILA.

Meany called in Teamsters Union President Dave Beck two weeks ago and demanded an end to teamsters' pacts with the ILA. When Beck flatly refused, claiming that it was no violation of AFL-CIO rules, Meany summoned the AFL-CIO's top policy group, the 29-man Executive Council, for the showdown meeting next Tuesday.

Beck let it be known he would not be there. He claimed "previous commitments."

Exactly what will happen can't be foretold. A sizable number of labor observers believe some compromise will be found, some way of avoiding tossing the giant teamsters organization out.

The Executive Council could suspend the teamsters immediately, if it so decides. The new AFL-CIO constitution provides that the council may suspend for two reasons, corruption or communism. It could treat teamster dealings with the ILA as a violation of the corruption ban.

Otherwise, the council could hand down an ultimatum to the effect that the teamsters divorce themselves from the ILA or face suspension.

There seems to be little disposition by either Beck or Meany to smooth over their differences. Beck told a news conference in Detroit April 20 he would go to court if necessary to fight any ouster move.

Behind the whole squabble is the influence James R. Hoffa, teamsters' vice president from Detroit, wields in the truck union.

Hoffa, a chunky, 41-year-old dynamo, has become the teamsters' top dog in most of the central part of the country and the South and is in a fair way of taking over teamster power on the East Coast.

In fact, many in the labor field feel Hoffa tells Beck what to do rather than the other way around. Hoffa says Beck's the leader, he's the follower. But in any case Beck listens to Hoffa.

Hoffa has steered the teamsters into their mutual assistance deals with the ILA, claiming that truck drivers serving the docks and the longshoremen need to operate closely to solve mutual problems.

But Meany has accused the ILA of being racket ridden, as charged by the New York Crime Commission, and has established a new AFL-CIO union called the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen to sweep the ILA off the docks.

Hoffa has said that in any jurisdictional contest the teamsters will support the ILA rather than the new AFL-CIO IBL. Several teamsters leaders are none too happy about the ILA alliances.

In fact, Frank Brewster, another teamsters union vice president and chief of the union in 11 Western states with 400,000 members, has eyed Hoffa's rise in power in the middle and eastern sectors of the country with some chagrin, apparently figuring he may be next.

Brewster has said that if the teamsters leave the AFL-CIO, his part of the teamsters may stay in. William A. Lee, teamsters chief in the Chicago area, is reported to feel the same way.

Thus an AFL-CIO suspension might split the teamsters' organization and lead to some complicated trucking industry labor troubles on cross-country hauling runs.

Significance of any teamster suspension would not be the mere subtracting of nearly one tenth of the AFL-CIO's huge membership.

It would be the conflict that could arise between the union whose members operate the nation's trucks and the unions whose members operate the plants, factories, supply houses and many other businesses across the land served by those trucks.

Rex Harrison Doesn't Sing But Is Musical Comedy Star Anyway

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Rex Harrison is a prize sensation of the Broadway season — a musical comedy star despite himself.

"I don't sing, I hardly dance either, and it's all wonderful fun," he cheerfully confesses.

Customers and critics are finding nothing to complain about in this unorthodox situation. The Harrison show "My Fair Lady" is quite clearly set to run on and on at the Mark Hellinger Theater and be one of Broadway's all-time fortune makers.

Harrison, a British-born master of debonair urbanity in film and stage roles, "deliberated quite a while" before accepting his part in the $400,000 musical redo of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion."

Only once before in his life had Rex been in a musical — "and that was 20 years ago when nobody knew me and it didn't matter."

His chief reservation wasn't concern about being able to handle the "Fair Lady" role, though. Behind the dapper veneer of the onstage Harrison is a serious, dedicated craftsman of theater — and he was concerned mostly over whether the intent and dialogue of Shaw would be preserved.

After accepting the role, he remained alert and during rehearsals sort of doubles as a vigilante, checking the original text as "My Fair Lady" evolved.

His verdict is happy:

"I've played much Shaw, I knew him. And I think he'd like this show."

As for his own performance, he says:

"I am involved in six songs, but since I don't sing I don't have to worry about my voice. I talk the songs, but I just don't talk. You see, all my life I've been in love with music and have a sense of rhythm. That enables me sometimes to pace the words not straight along with the music, but in a beat that makes them even more effective.

"Without that sense of rhythm I really would be up a gum tree."

His role — the language professor who transforms a little Cockney lass (wonderfully performed by Julie Andrews) into the image of an English lady — requires "much, much more vitality and concentration than any straight drama," he says.

PATTERSON

PATTERSON — A combined meeting of the Patterson Community Club and the Patterson Grade school was held Friday eveing in the school gymnasium. Ivan Dawdy, club president, called the meeting to order, and the minutes and treasurer's report were read by the secretary, Margaret Walk. The meeting was then turned over to the music supervisor of the school, Mrs. Mary Lane, of Jacksonville, who with the school pupils presented the following program:

A group of songs, by the seven and eighth grades; several selections by the fifth and sixth grades on their tonettes; a playlet, "Friends and Their Helpers," by the first and second grades; and a play entitled "Hans and Gretel," by the third and fourth grades.

After the program the group adjourned to the rear of the building where ice cream, cake and Kool Aid were served by a committee.

MATTER OF WEIGHT

LISBON, N. D. (AP)—A big truck loaded with eggs drove into a shop for tire repairs. While there the egg cargo was unloaded.

When the repair job was completed the driver found the unloaded truck was too high to clear the garage door.

The usual small boy showed up with advice about letting the air out of the tires, but by that time 19 men had been rounded up from the tire shop, a pool hall and the editorial chair of the Ransom County Gazette to weigh down the vehicle.
